

Atom Bomb Keeps Europe Free--Churchill

Canada Ready For Discussion On Security Treaty

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is ready to start negotiating a "regional treaty for collective security," External Affairs Minister Pearson announced today.

This means the Dominion is prepared to enter into a military alliance with the United States and the five nations of Europe's Western Union—Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—to form the long-awaited North Atlantic defensive union.

Meeting reporters before his departure for Paris tomorrow to head the Canadian delegation to the United Nations' meeting, the newly-elected External Affairs Minister said the government had received and studied a report from the experts who met in Washington to discuss the framework of such a union.

Mr. Pearson said the Canadian government had noted with "great interest" the statement issued last week-end by the Foreign Ministers of the Western Union nations in which they said they were in complete agreement on a North Atlantic Union.

Gardiner Hints Federal Election May Come Soon

REGINA (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said today the next federal election might be "much sooner" than anyone expected.

Addressing the Saskatchewan Liberal Party convention, Mr. Gardiner said the Dominion government didn't have to call an election till 1950.

But with a grin he added: "Ten chances to one, the next election will be held long before then."

He urged federal constituency organizations to continue to prepare for the next election.

"The Conservative Party, we feel, constitutes the only other party which has a chance to form the next federal government," he said.

Three Victorians Figure In Naval Air Appointments

OTTAWA (CP)—Acting Lt.-Cmdr. R. L. W. Goddard of Toronto has been appointed to command the 18th Carrier Air Group, the navy announced today. He succeeds Acting Lt.-Cmdr. F. W. H. Bradley of Dartmouth, N.S., who joins the directorate of naval aviation at headquarters here.

Other naval air appointments: Acting Lt.-Cmdr. John A. Stokes, Victoria, director of air personnel at headquarters, becomes commander of No. 825 Firefly Squadron of the 19th Carrier Group.

Acting Lt.-Cmdr. Richard Bartlett, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., commander of No. 825, joins the naval aviation directorate.

Lieut. Raymond A. B. Creery, Victoria, takes command of No. 883 Squadron.

Lieut. C. G. Smith, Victoria, takes command of No. 743 Squadron.

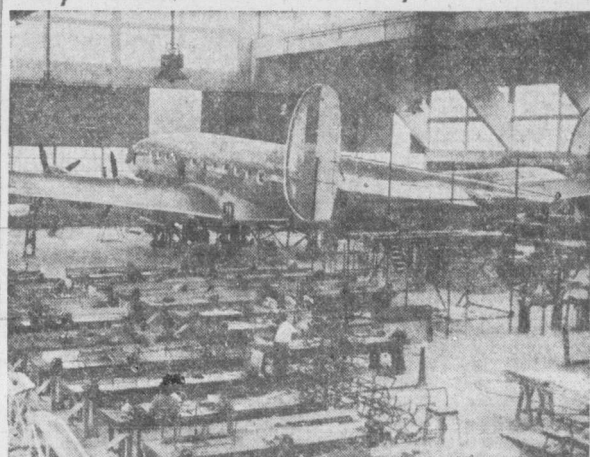

Former Victoria Schoolboy Posted To Berlin Airlift

Capt. Nigel Pelly, O.B.E., of British Overseas Airways Corporation, who attended school in Victoria, will take charge of a fleet of seven B.O.A.C. Dakotas which will supplement Britain's effort in the Berlin airlift, according to a report from Montreal.

It was Capt. Pelly who, as a British Airways captain, flew Mr. Chamberlain on his first flight to Hitler at Berchtesgaden in September, 1938.

With 2,000,000 air miles to his credit, Capt. Pelly is no stranger to air-lifts. During the early

Italy Builds Plane To Carry 25 Tons

After a preliminary test flight, Italy's newest giant plane, the Breda-Zappata, undergoes minor adjustments in its Milan hangar. The huge ship has a wing span of 138 feet and is 121 feet long, cruises at 300 miles an hour, and carries 48 passengers.—(NEA Service)

French Troops Driving Pickets From Coal Pits

PARIS (AP)—Troops using tanks and armored cars started clearing pickets today from additional mineheads in the strike-bound coal basin of northern France.

There was no report of serious clashes, although the miners had been called by sirens to mobilize against the soldiers and police.

Communist-led unions pulled out the 335,000 miners early this month with double objectives of more pay and striking at the European Recovery Program.

Red labor leaders also ordered a blockade of all imports of fuel by land and sea, calling out dock workers at main ports. Troops, however, began unloading U.S. coal at La Rochelle from the Greek ship Centorini. Police cut off access to the docks to avoid incidents.

Sixteen strikers were arrested at Carvin. Fifty pickets argued for an hour with police at a mine 20 miles southwest of Lille and then gave up.

The government said troops and police in large force had encircled the northern coal fields and were moving in.

An estimated 30,000 troops took part Monday when mines in the eastern section of the northern coal fields were taken. Today's movement was in the western section of the northern fields.

Pickets at Carvin, near Lens, evacuated six pits without incident although sirens wailed throughout the early morning.

An electric plant and coke oven seized by police in the Lens region were inspected by engineers and declared ready for operation. Security services planned to begin work immediately, it was reported.

Two-thirds of the striking miners are employed in the new fields. The area has been practically without gas and lights since the strike over wages began almost four weeks ago.

Plan To Adjourn General Assembly Meet In December

PARIS (Reuter)—Plans are being made by high United Nations officials to adjourn the General Assembly Dec. 10 and reconvene it in New York about the end of February, it is authoritatively learned.

Officials here realize that the important political committee has too much work before it to expect final decisions to be taken before Christmas.

The plan, as considered now, would be to adjourn the Assembly but keep the political committee in permanent session in New York. When it has finished its work a plenary session would be called to give final approval to any decisions reached.

The Palestine question, it was learned, would be one of the subjects shelved along with the Italian colonies issue during the present session and left to the political committee to consider during the first two months of 1949.

U.S. Election Results Awaited

One of the factors which affects the Palestine question is the fact that any new United States administration would not assume full control until Jan. 20.

In the interim period, U.S. observers say, it would be difficult for the State Department to lay down any clear-cut policy on such controversial issues as Palestine.

Indications are that the political committee will, at the present session, try to finish as many subjects as possible before Dec. 10.

These would include the Greek question, Korea, atomic energy control, disarmament, possibly the Kashmir question, and the India-South Africa dispute.

Bevin Pays Visit To Premier King

LONDON (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin today visited Prime Minister King of Canada for a 32-minute chat on international and Commonwealth affairs.

The meeting was in the Prime Minister's Dorchester Hotel room where he is reported progressing "wonderfully well." The Prime Minister's staff said he might venture out tomorrow for the first time since his enforced rest began two weeks ago.

Illegal Exports

NEW YORK (CP)—Canadian and U.S. officials are investigating the illegal shipment of Canadian tinplate through a New York forwarding firm to Yugoslavia, it was learned authoritatively today.

Radio Stations Seek Priority On Television

OTTAWA (CP)—The CBC board of governors was asked today to give operators of existing radio stations the first opportunity to develop television in Canada.

The request was made by Joseph Sedgewick of Toronto, counsel for the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, at a public meeting of the board. At the meeting the board heard four applications for television licenses, including one from the Famous Players Corporation of Toronto.

Leonard Brookington, K.C., of Ottawa, counsel for the Odeon Theatres and J. Arthur Rank Ltd., asked the board that the right to pick up and rebroadcast television shows be given to all theatres on an equal basis.

CANADIAN OWNERSHIP

Mr. Sedgewick said channels should be reserved for companies wholly owned and operated by Canadians.

Besides the Famous Players' Application, there were bids from stations CKEY and CFBP in Toronto. Al Leary, formerly connected with station CHUM in Toronto, asked deferment of a ruling on his application.

As is customary, the board reserved judgment on all applications and representations.

NEW LIBERTY PLANS

Jack Kent Cooke, operator of CKEY and publisher of New Liberty magazine, said his station personnel had been training in television stations in United States since June 1947.

Under questioning by A. D. Dunton, chairman of the board, Mr. Cooke said he and his associates were ready to spend $1,000,000 or $2,000,000 to develop television. He expected they would spend as much as $1,000,000 before the station would begin to break even. Original capital expenditures would amount to about $500,000.

118 Get Pardons

PRAGUE (AP)—President Klement Gottwald freed 118 persons from prison sentences Wednesday on the eve of Czechoslovakia's Independence Day holiday. He reduced the sentences of 78 others to top off a total of 638 years of prison terms from the 196 persons affected by his order.

2 Dead, 3 Hurt In Alberta Crash; Plane Wreck Burns

Edmonton (CP)—Two crew members were killed and three others injured Wednesday night in the crash of a Northwest Airlines cargo plane at Altondale, 35 miles northwest of here.

The dead: Capt. Ben Christian and flight mechanic Henry Kryzak. Christian, 34, resided in Minneapolis, and Kryzak, 23, came from St. Paul.

The injured were listed as Harry W. Upham, 32, the copilot; Nicholas Tangredi, 23, radio operator; and Harold W. Leared, 32, navigator. All are from Minneapolis.

As soon as word of the crash reached here, the R.C.A.F. sent out doctors and ambulances. Eyewitness reports said the plane burst into flames after crashing.

Britain Urges Economic Pressure In Palestine War

PARIS (CP)—Britain and China suggested today that the United Nations' Security Council consider the use of economic pressure to stop the Palestine war.

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain offered the council a draft resolution under article 41, chapter seven of the United Nations' Charter, which sets forth actions "not involving the use of armed force" by which the council may enforce its decisions. These in-

STUTTGART (Reuter)—United States troops and German police fired bayonets and tear gas when 3,000 to 4,000 demonstrators marched down Stuttgart's main street today smashing shop windows.

Proposes Early Reconciliation With Germany

LONDON (AP)—Winston Churchill told Parliament today that only the atom bomb prevents "the enslavement of Europe by Communist forces directed by the Kremlin."

He called for both secret and open debate on the state of British defences. He said the Conservative Party heads can accept no responsibility for the present condition of British armed forces.

Churchill, singled out by Prime Minister Stalin of Russia a little earlier today as "the main instigator of a new war" (see page 2). Said the Western Powers "should put no obstacles in the way of a reconciliation with Germany."

"Our policy should henceforth be to draw the sponge across the crimes and horrors of the past and look for the sake of our salvation towards the future," the wartime Prime Minister said. "There can be no revival in Europe without the active and loyal aid of the German tribes." On western union, Churchill said that whatever military preparations were made in the west to aid defence, they could only be for many years to come a subsidiary to the deterrent effect of the atomic bomb.

"This alone," he added, "at the present time prevents the rebarbarization and the enslavement of Europe by the Communist forces directed by the Kremlin."

Stalin Scores Allies But Foresees No World War

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin went on record today against the possibility of a new world war.

"Is it true," a Pravda correspondent asked, "that in August of this year agreement had already been reached among the four powers on the question of Berlin?"

"Yes," said Stalin, "this is true. Agreement is known to have been reached in Moscow Aug. 30 among the representatives of the U.S.S.R., the United States, Britain and France regarding the simultaneous implementation of measures for lifting transport restrictions (the blockade) on the one hand and for introduction of the German mark of the Soviet zone on the other hand."

Agreement does not hurt anyone's prestige, it takes into account the interests of the parties concerned and insures the possibility of further co-operation."

DEMAND BY MARSHAL (The agreement of Aug. 30 provided that the four military governors in Germany should settle the final details. Their negotiations broke down, however, when Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky injected a demand that Russia be given control over the air lift by which the western powers are supplying western Berlin over the blockade. The western powers then took the issue to the Security Council, charging the blockade is a threat to peace.)

"But the governments of the United States and Great Britain," Stalin continued, "disavowed their representatives in Moscow and declared the agreement to be null and void, i.e., they violated the agreement, having decided to refer the question to the Security Council, where the Anglo-Americans have a guaranteed majority."

DECLARED VOID; HE SAYS Asked about an agreement in Paris, Stalin said:

"Mr. (Juan A.) Bramuglia, representative of Argentina and president of the Security Council who conducted unofficial talks with Comrade (Andrei Y.) Vishinsky on behalf of the other powers concerned, did have in his hands an agreed draft decision on the question of the situation in Berlin. But the representatives of the United States and Great Britain once again declared the agreement to be null and void."

(A six-power compromise solution of the Berlin crisis, dealing with the blockade and the currency issue, was vetoed in the Security Council Monday by Vishinsky.)

11 Top German Commanders Sentenced To Imprisonment

NUERNBERG (AP)—A United States court today imposed sentences ranging from three years to life imprisonment on 11 of Germany's top military commanders for atrocities in the Second World War. An admiral was acquitted.

The 11 were convicted on war crimes charges after a nine-month trial. Two fellow defendants, Field Marshal Hugo Sperrle and Admiral Otto Schniewind, 60, commander of the North Sea fleet, were acquitted.

GIVEN LIFE TERM

Greying, handsome Lt.-Gen. Walther Warlimont, 54, found to be one of Hitler's top advisers in drafting summary execution orders against Allied commandos and Soviet army political commissars, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The same penalty was given to Lt.-Gen. Hermann Reinecke, 60, who was charged with issuing similar orders. Reinecke served as a military member of a people's court which tried the group which sought to assassinate Hitler in July, 1944.

DID NOT MAKE POLICY

The three-man tribunal Tuesday found all 13 defendants innocent of plotting to start the Second World War, ruling they did not rate high enough to make policy.

It then proceeded to pass judgment on charges of crimes by the 13 against prisoners of war and civilians.

Soviets Curious About Tokyo Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's Ambassador Panyushkin demanded today that the United States disclose what took place at a "secret military conference" he said Gen. Douglas MacArthur had held this month at Tokyo.

Panyushkin told the 11-member Far Eastern Commission a press report had said the conference was held Oct. 12-14. He said it dealt with "measures against a surprise attack on Japan."

Farewell At Wharf

YOKOHAMA (AP)—Kindly Helen Keller, famed blind and deaf leader, waved farewell today to 1,000 Japanese children who assembled on the dock to wish her bon voyage to the United States. Miss Keller had planned a world tour, but abandoned it because of the illness of her companion, Miss Polly Thomson.

Truckload Of Pigs Results In Fracas At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI—The story of a truckload of pigs, a neighborhood row and a punch in the face was narrated by Mayor L. K. Jordan at a council meeting here, at which Melvin Ray, speaking for a group of petitioners sought to have Chinese buildings on Second Avenue South condemned for health reasons.

Mr. Ray said that for 25 years efforts had been made to have the area cleaned up, and citizens in the neighborhood now wanted to know why the matter had been neglected. He charged that unsanitary conditions existed in contravention of city by-laws.

The buildings are a disgrace to the city, Mr. Ray contended.

Mayor Jordan told of a truckload of pigs creating considerable noise outside a house in the area last Sunday night. The police were called to straighten out a row which ensued when a resident of the district had received a punch in the face, he said.

The city instructed the sanitary inspector and the fire chief to investigate the area and make a report.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Detroit Free Press has started a prize contest to learn what United States college football fans think of the Big Nine's Rose Bowl policy... and Pacific coast commentators are having a contest of their own—apparently trying to see who can express the most unfavorable opinion of this policy.

The west coast lads think undefeated California is pretty hot stuff (and they may be right) and they don't like the idea of entertaining the second or third place team from the Big Nine.

Under Big Nine policy, Michigan, last year's Rose Bowl champions, is eligible to go to the west coast this year...

...and this year unbeaten Michigan is by far the best of the Big Nine conference which also includes Indiana, Purdue, Illinois, Northwestern, Iowa, Minnesota, Ohio State and Wisconsin.

See Soviets Amassing Huge Fleet Of 'Schnorkel'-Equipped Submarines

The Soviet Union is busily engaged building and equipping a gigantic underwater navy, according to "Jane's Fighting Ships," the authoritative volume on the world's navies, published in London. It says latest information "indicates Russia has 250 submarines in commission and 100 building." Some of these ships were turned over by the Allies, like the two British subs at left, above, which the Russian sailors took possession of late in World War II. Jane's points out that they also captured some from the Germans, and these and probably others are equipped with the "Schnorkel" device. The long pipe-like affair, shown at right on a German sub captured by the U.S. Navy, is extended to the surface when the submarine is submerged. Air is pumped down through a long, collapsible tube. Schnorkel-equipped U-boats can remain submerged almost indefinitely.

Canada Included In Group Accused By Soviet Chief

MOSCOW (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin today accused Britain, the United States and the so-called "neutral" states of the United Nations' Security Council—including Canada—of supporting a policy which can lead to the "unleashing of a new war."

The Soviet leader added, however, that the present international crisis "can only end in an ignominious failure on the part of the instigators of a new war."

Stalin answered a series of questions put to him by a reporter of Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper, on the Berlin controversy.

The Prime Minister criticized Canada, China, Colombia, Syria, Belgium and Argentina for their actions in the Security Council at Paris during the Berlin discussions.

VETOED BY RUSSIA

(These six countries attempted to mediate the big-power quarrel over Berlin, but Russia vetoed their proposed compromise Monday.)

"Those gentlemen are obviously lending their support to a policy of aggression—to a policy of unleashing a new war," Stalin said.

"The point is," Stalin went on, "that the instigators of the aggressive policy of the United States of America and Britain do not consider themselves interested in agreement and co-operation with the U.S.S.R.

"They want not agreement and co-operation but talk about agreement and co-operation, in order to thwart agreement, to throw the blame on the U.S.S.R. and, by so doing, prove the impossibility of co-operation with the U.S.S.R."

"The policy of the present leaders of the United States and Britain is a policy of aggression and the unleashing of a new war."

"In what can all this end?" the correspondent asked.

MENTIONS CHURCHILL

Stalin replied:

"It can only end in an ignominious failure on the part of the instigators of a new war. (Winston) Churchill, the main instigator of the new war, has already managed to deprive himself of the trust of his own nation and of democratic forces throughout the world."

"The same fate lies in store for all other instigators of war. The horrors of the recent war are still too fresh in the memories of peoples and public forces favoring peace are too strong for Churchill's pupils in aggression to overpower them and to set a course for a new war."

Thousands Throng British Auto Show, But Few May Buy

LONDON (CP)—Britain's first postwar automobile show opened Wednesday with thousands of motoring enthusiasts thronging the 50 British models on display.

But few Britons will be able to buy them for nearly 57 per cent of the new cars produced are slated for export as part of the recovery drive.

At the two British stands displaying eight different models, £50,000 ($200,000) worth of cars were to be seen.

Don Harrison, sales director for Lord Nuffield's Morris organization, said "Canada, the United States and Brazil have already placed orders for the new Morris cars to the extent of £50,000."

Coulter Re-elected As Winnipeg Mayor

WINNIPEG (CP)—Mayor Garret Coulter won his fourth successive term as Winnipeg chief magistrate Wednesday with a convincing victory over Donovan Swalles, backed by the C.C.F. The term of office is two years.

Mr. Coulter, a lawyer, ran as an independent.

Mr. Swalles, an accountant, in conceding the victory in a radio address, paid tribute to Mr. Coulter as "the best mayor the city has ever had."

Two Drown In Car, Third Body Sought

ABERDEEN, Wash. (AP)—Two persons were found dead in a car submerged in the Chehalis River late Wednesday, and the body of a third—the owner of the car—was being sought.

The dead were identified by Chief of Police A. M. Gallagher as William Henry Crossman, about 60, of Shelton, Wash., and Mrs. Mina Schafer, about 50, of Amanda Park, Wash.

Gallagher said the owner of the car was Earl Clark, former Centralia, Wash., resident. Police were dragging for his body.

The car, with the leg of a man protruding from it, was sighted by a passing youngster at low tide.

Premier Johnson Flies Home Tonight

LONDON (CP)—Premier

Byron Johnson of British Columbia said today following interviews with officials of the Board of Trade and the Food Ministry, that there appeared to be a "keen desire to continue the closest trading between British Columbia and the United Kingdom."

"It all hinges on the all-important problem of dollars," Mr. Johnson said in an interview. "The desire to buy is here provided the method of financing can be worked out."

British Columbia was particularly concerned with the marketing of lumber, salmon and fruit in the United Kingdom.

Mr. Johnson, who attended the Empire Parliamentary Association conference, will leave tonight for Canada aboard the same Trans-Canada Air Lines plane in which Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan is traveling.

Peru Government Rushes Troops To Scene Of Revolt

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The government rushed loyal troops to its defence today after an army garrison had revolted at Arequipa. It was Peru's second major rebellion within 25 days.

President Jose Luis Bustamante Rivero's government announced late Wednesday night that Brig. Manuel Odría, commandant of the Arequipa garrison and a former minister of government (interior), and troops under his command had launched an insurrection.

A communique, which gave no details of the progress of the revolt, said the government was taking "necessary measures to subdue the subversive movement."

The government said troops at Lima, the capital, and other garrisons in the north and south had remained loyal. Arequipa is in southern Peru, about 135 miles from the Bolivian border. The president broadcast a message denouncing the Arequipa revolt as the work of a small group of "ambitious and resentful" men.

Big Cocaine Seizure In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Cocaine valued at $75,000 was seized late Wednesday night by police, who said the drug had been smuggled into the city from Peru. Two men were arrested. The pair, identified as Carlos Olivia, 45, and Felix Carbera, 44, a seaman, were booked on charges relating to illegal possession of narcotics.

Scared By Torpedo

HALIFAX (CP)—Six men on a barge in Bedford basin Wednesday received a jolt when they saw a torpedo flashing through the water toward them. It missed by a few feet.

The destroyer Nootka was running torpedoes at the time, and one of the harmless practice missiles went off course.

$5,000,000 Sought By Red Cross In 1949

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Red Cross 1949 national appeal, scheduled for next March, will have an objective of $5,000,000, it was announced today.

Members of the Red Cross Society's central council, meeting here for their two-day semi-annual convention, said it was estimated the sum would be the minimum required to carry on the work throughout Canada for a 12-month period. The 1948 objective was $3,000,000.

British Miners' Official Rapped

LONDON (Reuter)—The executive of the National Mineworkers' Union today gave notice to its Communist general secretary, Arthur Horner, that it would not tolerate any repetition of his conduct during a recent visit to France when he spoke in support of the French coal strikers. The French union is not backed by the British Union.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mrs. Louella Peterson, wealthy 60-year-old widow, told police Wednesday that $132,000 in currency had disappeared from a hiding place in her home. She said the money, in bills of $1,000 and $100 denomination, had been in a bag concealed in her basement.

SIX WEEKS FROM TODAY

SIX WEEKS FROM TODAY THE QUALIFIED voters of Victoria will have the opportunity to mark their ballots for aldermen, school trustees and a police commissioner to serve the city for two years starting in January. Before that date, of course, several candidates will have entered the field and put forward the arguments which they believe will win them the support of the public.

Among the major issues, the arena question will doubtless again be to the fore, with possible discussion of civic financing in general attaining a prominent place in platforms. What should lend a healthy atmosphere to the elections this year, moreover, is the fact that criticism of incumbents has been so widespread in recent months. This development, if it has been honest, should bring forward a considerable amount of new blood for test at the polls. Among those who have been vocal in their complaints against the administration must be men and women who have concrete suggestions to offer over the manner in which conditions can be improved. This is their opportunity to demonstrate that criticism has not been a purely destructive element in laudable discussion of matters of urgent public interest. Those who are qualified are now afforded the right to offer themselves for public service.

Between now and nomination day ample time exists for citizens who possess the required status for candidature to give serious thought to their responsibilities. This is their city. On them rests a definite obligation for its good government. They must, of course, recognize the fact that office-holding is no sinecure. But if they are in a position to stand for election, and if they have a contribution to make to the welfare of Victoria through civic channels, the elections in early December furnish them media for the expression of sincere public consciousness.

STEEL SHORTAGE

TO THOSE WHO REMEMBER CANADA'S much-debated shipments of scrap iron to Japan before the war, the announcement that the former enemy country is now among the places being searched for supplies of this commodity for the Dominion may appear as an anomaly. But Canadian industry today is in urgent need of steel. Between 500 and 1,000 new business ventures requiring steel have been established since the war, according to Mr. F. K. Ashbaugh, the national steel controller, and the current shortage is placed at 1,000,000 tons of ingots a year, plus another 200,000 tons of scrap.

The figures mean little to the man in the street. It is not until the practical effects are felt that the fact comes home. When the scarcity of automobiles, washers, stoves, pipe and other steel products begins to pinch, then the attempts to enlarge the Dominion's raw material sources achieve a greater reality. According to the experts, although there has been a continuing scarcity since the war, failure to find new supplies will soon result in greater difficulties.

What lies back of the shortage? The great expansion of Canadian industry, already mentioned, is a major factor. But even more important is the increased consumption of steel in the United States—our main source of supply—as a result of war defence projects and a still-unfilled domestic demand. Canada at present is carrying on negotiations in Hongkong, Singapore, Australia, Japan, South America and Germany with a view to purchasing whatever is available. Much of our home-building program and the satisfaction of our machinery and household needs, depends on the outcome of that search.

NOT THE CREAM

NO STATISTICS ARE CITED TO SUPPORT the reported statement in Vancouver this week of Mr. P. T. R. Pugsley, Montreal president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, that senior Canadian businessmen are losing the cream of Canadian youth to Communists. Nor does the announcement made by an authoritative spokesman at the University of British Columbia last December bear out his remarks. Shortly before the Christmas recess last year, criticism arose over the presence on the campus of an ultra-red faction. It brought a reply from then Student President Grant Livingstone that while a minority group of 70 might get its information from the Cominform, the other 9,000 students thought for themselves.

The rebuttal here, be it noted, is drawn from an example in British Columbia. We are prepared to assume that conditions revealed here at that time are reasonably representative of those existing across the Dominion.

It is conceivable, of course, that Mr. Pugsley has confused radicalism with Communism. If that is the case, he is sorely at fault in his reasoning. Youth, by its very essence, is radical. It questions. It picks up new theories and examines them. It is inclined to take stated opinion with reservations, preferring to probe them before accepting them. It wants and demands the right to form its own conclusions. If it fails to do that, there will be "no cream of Canadian youth." The young men and young women will be either permanently adolescent, or will be born with the faults and few of the virtues of the aged.

Canadian youth knew what it was fighting when it helped to defend democracy against totalitarianism in the Second World War. It is not being beguiled into accepting another form of authoritarianism in the Moscow pattern. But it will retain its right to challenge ideas. It has seen the development of scientific marvels of which its grandparents scarcely dreamed. Is it not logical that it should question some of the ideas held by its progenitors two generations removed? Canadian youth may investigate Communism, may listen to the arguments of the "fellow-travelers. But the good sense of the young men and young women of this Dominion will be shown in the discriminating faculties created by challenging and open minds.

THE RIGHT IDEA

THE PERSONAL QUALITIES OF INDUSTRY, thrift, common sense and stability that traditionally are associated with the people of the Netherlands are well known to the citizens of Canada, and they have formed the basis of our admiring regard for the inhabitants of Holland. That such regard is mutual may be understood from the expressions of gratitude that have come from the Netherlands as a result of the part played by the Canadian Army in the liberation of the land of tulips from the Nazis. And that the Hollanders' feelings are not merely of the theoretical variety may be seen in the fact that many immigrants from that country have come to our shores since the end of the war, and more are expected in the near future. Rev. J. J. Stam, of the Netherlands Reformed Church, who will sail from New York this week following a Canada-wide tour to assist the establishment of his countrymen in this Dominion, estimates that between 8,000 and 9,000 Dutch immigrants arrived in Canada this year. As many as 20,000 may come in 1949.

Speaking of his visit, Dr. Stam revealed a knowledge of the prime requisite for successful settlement of immigrants to this country—another illustration of the sound common sense which we have mentioned. He said, referring to the newcomers, "We want to put them into the life of Canada and not have them locked up in nationalist groups." There is the solution in a nutshell. The immigrants may keep—and Canadians will welcome the retention—the folklore, the traditions, and the culture of their native land. Such intangible assets strengthen and enrich the national life. But their own success, and the success of their new friends and neighbors, depends on a full participation in the opportunities that this country can offer—a participation as Canadians, not as visitors; as full members of our community, not as isolated strangers. Dr. Stam has spoken well. If his countrymen cross the Atlantic with that idea in mind, there will be no "immigrant problem" and no dislocation of our mutual progress.

SURVIVAL STRUGGLE

WE HAVE BECOME SO USED TO READING of "man's inhumanity to man" that we are prone to forget that nature, too, can still inflict harsh treatment on relatively defenceless human beings. Two world wars within a generation have led us to think of man himself as the most deadly enemy to human life. Only man has brought violent death to his fellow-man in such a manner as to wipe out millions of lives within a few years. Nature's worst efforts seem tame in comparison.

With this in mind, the tragedy that almost obliterated life from Bentinck Island, in Australia's Gulf of Carpentaria, has passed with little notice. Some 230 aborigines are believed to have died of starvation within the last few months on the island. Only 19 members of the tribe survived to be moved to a nearby island. As yet the details of the catastrophe have not been learned, but there was evidence that every animal on the seagirt prison had been killed and eaten, and large areas had been dug up in the frantic search for edible roots. A storm, a blight, some inevitable result of blind natural forces, was responsible for the natives' plight. Their food source disappeared and they died.

In the midst of our comfortable cities and bountiful countryside this meagre news dispatch comes to remind us that there are still parts of the earth where the struggle to survive is perpetually near the borderline of existence, where the equation of man and his livelihood has not changed since the days of the stone club and the cave.

GOLD UNDERFOOT

THE SUGGESTION OF FOOTWEAR PRODUCERS that men's shoes should be enlivened with a few bright colors is not one likely to be taken seriously by sober-minded Victorians—which is one more reason why this is a nice place to live. According to the shoe manufacturers, who share with clothing makers a perpetual dissatisfaction with the traditional sobriety of men's wear, the masculine footwear of the near future will include bright red and blue numbers, and even a creation in gold kid.

We have in the recent past become accustomed to the sight of dainty female extremities shod in golden slippers—as though the wearers had just come from a session of classic posing or daisy chain carrying—but to see similar 14 karat adornment flashing from beneath the baggy flannel trousers or casually creased tweeds of Victoria's male population would be a little too much. For us, the solid brown or black oxford will continue to be the preferred foot covering. We shouldn't like to be accused of kicking all that gold around.

"Righteous" means truly good; "self-righteous" means feeling very, very good—like one who hasn't smoked for several weeks.

A FEW BRASS TACKS

AFTER THE United States election there will come into the foreground of discussion of foreign policy the condition of the budget and its impact on the American economy. The whole relationship between East and West will be greatly affected by the decisions which the administration and the Congress decide to take, or are compelled to take by the acts of the Soviet government.

Thus far American rearmament and foreign aid have been supported in the United States by the surplus of a peacetime economy. Without controls and without rationing, but only by a high level of taxation and a considerable inflation, the American economy is providing about 20 billion dollars worth of goods and services over and above what the American people are themselves consuming.

Therefore, a substantial increase in the armaments program, additional sums for European military lend-lease, and for assistance to China, just mean a return to something like a wartime level of taxation and to the essential wartime controls over industry. Even now, with the present programs and after the recent tax cut, the current budget is in fact almost certainly unbalanced.

THERE IS A probable deficit of income as against outgo which approximates two billion dollars. The United States' own defence establishment will probably be asking several billions more, and foreign aid, even if there is some reduction in the Marshall Plan amounts will, with military lend-lease, be at least as big, probably bigger, than it is this year.

The diplomatic consequences of this condition of affairs should be considered very seriously indeed in every foreign office. The Kremlin, first of all, will need to understand them. What the Russians need most of all to understand is that the United States is now at the limit of what the American economy can provide by way of arms and foreign aid under a peacetime economy. But the American economy could provide much more if it were to go on a war footing. Though the public and the Congress will not want to go on a war footing, they will be driven to it by an aggressive Soviet action in any part of the world or by provocation that appears to have no end.

SO IN DECIDING how they propose to deal with the administration after the election, the thing which Stalin and Molotov need most of all to weigh is whether they will push the United States from a peace to a war economy. They do not have to fear that the U.S. will use the atomic bomb in a preventive war; they can be confident that it will be maintained as a deterrent and as a reprisal against military aggression. But if they are the realists they like to think they are, they will fear anything which would push the United States over the line between a peace and a war economy. For if that happened, there would be war. It would be impossible for Americans to accept the restraints and the sacrifice of a war economy except in time of war. A totalitarian state might remain on a war footing without waging war; a democracy like that of the United States could not.

IT IS IMPORTANT also that other governments and peoples should understand the implications and the consequences of the situation here. If the tension becomes more and more acute during the coming year, if the likelihood of real war increases, American preoccupation with military power will impair profoundly American interest and faith in European recovery and reconstruction. The greater the danger of war, the harder it will be to argue that large sums should be invested in the rehabilitation of the continent, including western Germany. What, for example, it will be said, is the sense of rebuilding the Ruhr just before the Red Army captures it? Will it not be better to expand American steel production? Nor will it be easy to contend with the argument of the American military leaders that the most profitable military investments abroad will be in those peripheral places that the American forces believe they need and think they can use.

THESE ARE, it seems to me, some of the real and controlling considerations, now obscured by Communist propaganda and Vishinsky's invective, by the ghost-written retorts and repartee, and by the smart alec debaters who have been having a field day in Paris. When the election is over, when the budget is presented and Congress takes hold of it, the issue which will emerge is whether the United States is to cross the Rubicon and enter a wartime economy.

Before that happens, the consequences will have to be spelled out clearly to all the statesmen, including the Russians but not excluding the Americans, not excluding Mr. Bevin, not excluding the leaders of Germany.

THESE MATTERS will indeed come to a head. For then it will be much clearer than it is now how impossible it is to regard the cold war as something which can be continued indefinitely, how imperative it is for all concerned to begin at long last a really serious negotiation.

Everyone's Out Of Step But Joe

A Survey Of War Possibilities

From Public Opinion, London.

ALL that can be said of long-range weapons of the rocket or flying-bomb type is that Russia possesses them and probably in large numbers. Their value for offensive purposes must depend to a great extent upon the territory seized by her land forces, says The Round Table.

AIR ATTACK

Here again, if she could overrun France, the Low Countries and Scandinavia, she would be enabled to install the launching apparatus of such weapons in sites highly favorable for bombardment of Great Britain, and the only possible means of interrupting the process would be heavy air action against her communications.

Russia does not possess atomic weapons, and experts appear to be of the opinion that, even if she had at her disposal all the formulae required, she would not be able to overcome the practical and technical difficulties, for want of what the Americans call "the know-how," for several years.

The events in Berlin have exhibited Russia in a highly dangerous mood. Those who have in formal appreciations arriving at similar conclusions in many countries, decided that Russia does not at present want war, have always added the proviso that she might push herself into it by clumsy and over-bearing action which would render it unavoidable.

The exasperation in official circles in the United States has become so great that the Russians who blocked land communications with the west from Berlin were walking about with lighted matches amid powder-barrels. Despite all this, the appreciations hold good, and no one is inclined to abandon them. The attitude is, in fact, that if they were sound then the time to act upon them is the time of trial and stress.

CONFESSION OF PANIC

To take any other point of view would be either to treat them as academic exercises not meant for the emergencies for which they were drawn up, or, acknowledging them to be sound, to admit a lack of nerve needed to lean upon them and their implications, which would in itself be a confession of panic.

To sum up, Russian military power is, as things stand, great enough to overrun all Europe in a relatively short time, unless Europe were supported at a very early stage by a degree of assistance which the U.S.A. would not have it in its power to supply.

On the other hand, if a military union of western States were accompanied by a genuine effort, with American aid, to put their military houses in order; if the money they expend were devoted to training and armament and not frittered away on camp-followers, military "spivs" and every side-line which perverse ingenuity can invent; then, in a few years' time they could create a defensive force, with opportunities of counterattack from their widely disposed bases, which would of itself suffice to make Russia reflect seriously.

If the rearmament and reorganization in progress in the United States were within the same period to be so designed as to render possible speedy reinforcement across the Atlantic, then a strength could be attained against which Russia would probably be disinclined to measure hers and would not do so with any easy prospect of even initial success.

And yet, even if all Europe were overrun by Russia, the final result of a challenge to the death delivered to the United States can hardly be doubted. Such a war might bring world ruin, but it would almost inevitably result in the overwhelming destruction of Russia military power.

But a war which ended in American victory might be only a degree less disastrous than one which ended with Russian victory.

DEATH FOR ALL

The hope of civilization depends upon avoiding a war of this kind. There can be no firm foundation for this hope but an understanding shared between Russia and the United States that war means death for all, including the nominal winner.

Talking It Over Among Friends

From The Times, London

HISTORY AND GEOGRAPHY have combined to make the situation of Canada similar in many ways to that of Britain.

Canada, no less ready to move always in step with her partners, also knows that the Commonwealth can be no exclusive association and never forgets her specially intimate relationship with the great friendly power of the United States.

SUPPORTING LINK

Mr. St. Laurent, like Mr. Mackenzie King, has shown that he regards the link with the United States as a support rather than as a solvent of Canada's imperial position; and in taking the lead in advocating Atlantic Union as a broad regional defensive plan he fully acknowledges the great part which the United States must take in it. The Canadian stand is broad, and it encompasses a consistently proved loyalty to the Crown and to the Commonwealth association.

South Africa has taken a full part in the meetings and acknowledges the common interests of the partnership. The attitude of the Commonwealth in foreign affairs, and especially in resisting the threat of totalitarian Communism, constitutes a powerful bond with those sections of South African opinion which on other grounds are impatient of allegiance to the common Crown. How the evident strains will develop in the future cannot be said.

PROBLEM OF ASSOCIATION

In his frank speech to the Commonwealth Conference Dr. Low discussed his country's internal and external policies, dwelling in particular on its racial policy with which other Commonwealth members have not been able to sympathize. The strength of republican sentiment in South Africa may yet raise the problems of association already put forward open by Eire and hardly less openly by India.

The three prime ministers from Asia have also given their welcome contribution to the work of the conference and to the unofficial discussions that have accompanied it. Mr. Nehru has had the opportunity to consult distinguished jurists upon the form of India's future association with the "brotherhood of nations."

India will judge for herself how close or how loose she wishes that association to be, not on any ground of tradition but upon a realistic estimate of its practical working in the world today. It is of the highest importance that Mr. Nehru, Mr. Liaquat Ali Khan, and Mr. Sena-nayake can now all report back to their governments that they have seen from the inside the operation of the Commonwealth machinery for full consultation.

VALUABLE RIGHT

They can advise their countrymen upon the value of preserving the right to take part, both in these meetings, and in the day-to-day communication that is kept up between the King's governments.

Snooping Silliness

Ottawa Citizen

Nothing could be sillier than the charge of "snooping" leveled against Dominion Bureau of Statistics because it proposes to send out investigators to discover how typical families spend their money these expensive days. The purpose of the survey is to check the cost-of-living index against current prices—an objective which most Canadians will approve.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

(For DeWitt Mackenzie)
Associated Press News Analyst

PARIS—The smaller powers in the United Nations are talking back to the big powers and slowly, but surely, they are getting results.

They succeeded in keeping alive negotiations for atomic energy control. They are scraping now to keep talks going on control of convention armaments.

They refused to accept a western-power demand that they slap Russia for the Berlin blockade. Instead they came up with a plan which blamed no one and urged the Big Four's council of foreign ministers itself to settle the Berlin crisis.

Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, killed the "neutral" plan with Russia's 28th veto in the Security Council Monday, but a spokesman for the small powers said they would keep trying for some formula to bring the big powers together.

Delegates of the small and medium countries in the United Nations know they inevitably would be drawn into any war which might result from the big-power squabbles.

NEED SUPPORT

They also know that the big powers need their support for any successful war. Knowing these things, they are treading cautiously, appealing for moderation and negotiation, and absolutely refusing to close any door that might lead to peace.

The best example of their influence is what happened on atomic energy. They refused to let the atomic control negotiations fall apart.

Britain, the United States and France came here with the view that the Assembly should approve their plan for control, take a crack at Russia for holding up agreement and let things ride until the political climate changed for the better.

Russia came in with a surprise change in tactics, demanding that a treaty banning atomic bombs and another treaty setting up controls be written and put into effect at the same time.

COULD NOT STOP

India protested against letting negotiations drop. So did Australia. They stumped up the general idea of the small powers that no matter how hopeless it appeared, the U.N. could not stop trying to agree on atomic controls.

For once the smaller powers refused to give in and finally forced the western group to agree to a resolution approving the majority plan, but calling for the U.N. Atomic Energy Commission to take up negotiations where it dropped them last spring and keep working.

Russia voted against the final resolution in the political committee because it approved the majority report. It is evident that Russians want the talks in the atomic commission to continue.

BIG BUSINESS

Windsor Star

Potatoes are big business in the New England states, especially in Maine. There have been objections raised to Canadian spuds going across the line, competing with the local product there. Mr. Howe tersely tells United States objectors that while Canada buys $290,000,000 of fruits and vegetables annually from the United States, it only sells $54,000,000, including potatoes, to that country.

The United States has nothing about which to kick, really. Trouble is, an election campaign is on there, and some New England candidates are trying to ride into office on a bag of potatoes. Perhaps Mr. Howe, being a politician himself, should not be too tough on his one-time New England compatriots. They are merely trying to make big potatoes out of small potatoes.

Dominion-Provincial Conference Urged By Chamber Of Commerce

VANCOUVER (CP) — A new Dominion-provincial conference is advocated by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, to revise present agreements in a manner acceptable to all provinces and to the Dominion.

This was one of a large slate of policy decisions made Wednesday.

Another decision in effect advocated that employers should not have to deal with Communist-dominated unions. It would remove such unions from all privileges and protection of labor legislation.

Further, it would bar Communists from government employment, education, transportation, communications and similar vital services. It advocates redefinition of the term treason and that provisions of the Criminal Code in that regard be strictly enforced.

HIGHER PAY ADVOCATED
Other declarations favor raising teachers' salary levels; a national conference on forestry; a long-range immigration program with a separate minister of immigration; western Canada irrigation projects; placing of national defence in immediate proper order; a study of Canadian seaports; abolition of double taxation; equal taxation of all business enterprises whether privately owned or owned by governments or co-operatives; inquiry into radio broadcasting and consideration of placing it under the jurisdiction of a body independent of both the CBC and private stations, responsible directly to Parliament; and a joint Dominion-provincial commission to work out an arrangement for a modern trans-Canada highway.

Another declaration says the chamber is opposed in principle to government marketing of agricultural and other products. The policy decisions indicate the chamber's direction in the coming year in its contacts with its 560-member boards of trade and chambers of commerce which have a membership of 75,000 businessmen.

In proposing a new Dominion-provincial conference the chamber restated its belief in the "federal system of government as evolved in Canada," which is one of a union of provinces with certain powers resting with the provinces and others with the Dominion.

It recognizes "dangers to democracy inherent in the centralization of power."

WOULD END DUPLICATION

It holds there is urgent necessity to outline clearly the respective fiscal jurisdictions of the Dominion and provinces in order that all governments concerned may know what revenue will be available to them, and to avoid duplication of government machinery and extra expense.

"With respect to the present unsatisfactory state of Dominion-provincial tax arrangements, the chamber believes the failure of the Dominion and two provinces (Ontario and Quebec) to reach satisfactory agreements on taxation makes for political and financial uncertainty, has resulted in confusion and has created undue complications in the filing of tax returns."

The chamber favored the payment of subsidies by the Dominion to provinces whose taxation powers are not adequate to provide public services up to a reasonable minimum.

Youthful Bandits Jailed, Lashed

MILTON, Ont. (CP) — Five youths aged from 17 to 22 Wednesday were given sentences ranging from two to 10 years, with lashes, on charges arising from the Oct. 2 shooting and wounding of D. A. Allan, 48, druggist at Bronte, Ont.

Fred Jackson, 20, of Toronto, was sentenced to 10 years and 20 strokes after his conviction on charges of assault while armed and attempted robbery.

Joseph Rebeck, 19, Toronto, was sentenced to seven years and 20 lashes on the assault charge and given a concurrent sentence of six months for stealing a revolver. Buddy Smith, 18, Willowdale, was sentenced to five years and 20 lashes for assault and one year concurrent for car theft.

Edward McMann and Joseph Grebski, both of Milton, each received two years, with 10 lashes, for assault.

Allan, 48, suffered a gunshot wound Oct. 2 when three youths entered his store and demanded money.

The five youths were arrested the day after the attempted hold-up.

Musical Festival For Schools Here Planned Next Month

The second annual musical festival for students of Greater Victoria elementary schools will be held from Nov. 22 to 26.

John Gough, municipal inspector of schools, who announced the dates today, said the festival will be held on a non-competitive basis with pupils from Grade 3 to Grade 8 taking part.

Arrangements for the festival are under the direction of H. J.

Bigby, music supervisor for Greater Victoria schools, who has grouped the schools of the area so that pupils will sing at the following regional centres, Cloverdale, Monterey, George Jay, Tolmie, Lampson Street and South Park schools.

Festival classes will be held at each of these schools for one day only. Evening concerts will be open to the public.

During the daily sessions each class will be given an opportunity to sing a demonstration selection and a number of its own choice.

There will be massed singing by children from several schools who have learned the same demonstration song.

Constructive criticism will be given by an adjudicator.

Ban On Recording May Be Removed

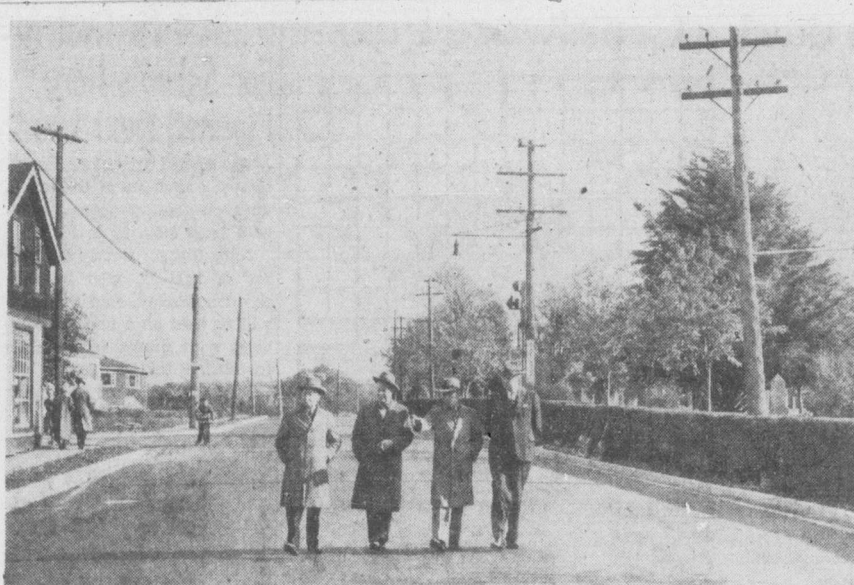

NEW YORK (AP)—Hopes for early settlement of the recording ban were raised today by a resumption of discussions between officials of the record companies and James C. Petrillo's musicians' union.

The ban has been in effect since Dec. 31 last, when the old contract between the recording companies and the A.F.L.-American Federation of Musicians expired. The Taft-Hartley Labor law prohibited a new contract continuing the previous arrangement under which royalties were paid directly to a union welfare fund on each record sold.

The New York Times reported that the musicians' union and recording companies had reached agreement on "major terms" of a contract.

The Times said it had learned the contract would be submitted "in the next few days" to the department of justice for its opinion as to its legality under the Taft-Hartley Law.

"If approval is forthcoming from Washington," the Times added, "the first new records to be made in 10 months will reach the market in a matter of days."

SMOOTH SAILING AT LAST—Fairfield Road can now be called a road in the modern sense of the word. Reconstruction started early in the summer has been completed. Shown inspecting the wide, smooth highway just before it was opened Wednesday are, left to right, Ald. Harold M. Diggon, Ald. J. D. Hunter, Mayor Percy George and Ald. Frank Mulliner. The aldermen are members of the public works committee headed by Dr. Hunter. Section they are walking over is adjacent to Ross Bay Cemetery, which was one of the worst sections before the renovation.

British T.U.C. May Set Up Opposition To World Group

LONDON (CP)—The general council of the Trades Union Congress decided Wednesday to quit the World Federation of Trade Unions unless that body suspends its work.

Observers promptly forecast a bitter international clash between Communist and other labor unions. They believed it extremely unlikely that the powerful Communist forces in the W.F.T.U. would accept such a recommendation.

Arthur Deakin, world president of the W.F.T.U. who last month accused it of being "nothing less than another platform and instrument for Soviet policy," said: "This is our attempt to put the W.F.T.U. in cold storage."

The federation comprises unions in Russia, Eastern and Western European countries and the Congress of Industrial Organizations in North America. It has a total membership of between 70,000,000 and 80,000,000.

The T.U.C. represents 8,000,000 workers in 180 unions in Great Britain. There is only one Communist in its 33-member council.

Deakin, who also is a member of the T.U.C., said the move may lead to setting up a western rival to the W.F.T.U. within a year or so.

Suspension of the W.F.T.U.'s activities would close its Paris headquarters where it has a staff of about 60 persons, disband its Communist-tinted executive bureau, cut all its ties with affiliated national unions and halt all its propaganda publications.

London labor sources said the British unions would probably leave the W.F.T.U., that other non-Communist western labor unions probably would follow suit and that a new non-Communist international labor organization would then be founded.

Roger Lemelin, Quebec, Publishes His Second Novel

QUEBEC (CP)—Roger Lemelin, 29-year-old Quebecer who grew up in the shabby St. Sauveur district, to become a successful lumber operator and author, has just published his second novel.

His first, "Au Pied de la Pente Douce" caused such an uproar after its appearance in June, 1944, that Quebec people were ready for anything when "Les Plouffe," the new story, came along.

But critics who have scanned the account of Lemelin of the life of a Quebec Lower Town family as the war came along expect no repetition of threats, charges of anti-clericalism and general outcry that exploded over "Au Pied de la Pente Douce."

"Au Pied," as Lemelin refers to his first effort, was translated into "The Town Below" earlier this year. "Les Plouffe," the story of the Plouffe family, is due also for translation and publication shortly in the United States.

DOES NOT BEND

About "Les Plouffe," they say the energetic author hasn't bent the nail one way or the other, but hit it right on the head.

The 470 page book has a plot that is the backbone of a piece of regional fiction easily in the class of Gabrielle Roy's "Bonheur d'Occasion" (The Tin Flute). What happens to the Plouffe family when a lanky Cincinnati preacher drops in and the Second World War breaks out is the story of "Les Plouffe."

Before that life was fairly simple in the household of Theodule Plouffe, newspaper printer and former cycling enthusiast, and his fluffy, good-natured wife, Josephine.

Napoleon, the eldest son went to bed every night with an ice cream cone. Cedre, a spinster daughter, wasted away pining for a tram conductor who didn't find her "dynamic" enough. Passionate Voide turned to opera because women would have nothing to do with him, while the unpredictable Guillaume was the hero of the household for his skill at quoits.

If War Should Come... Britain Recovers Armor

(NOTE: This is the fourth of six stories in a Canadian Press series on Commonwealth defence. It describes the steps being taken by Britain, heart of the Commonwealth, in the face of growing international tension.)

By STUART UNDERHILL
LONDON (CP)—Britain has resigned herself to reassemble the armor she cast aside hurriedly after the war.

Members of parliament, Labor and Conservative, who complained two years ago that demobilization was too slow to meet the manpower needs of industry, now are mostly silent.

Keynote for the country's new feeling was struck by Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery at a recruiting drive, before he resigned as Chief of the Imperial General Staff to head the Western European Union's five-power military committee.

"While I do not want to stress the danger of war, I do not want to underplay it," he said. "I just want to say: Let us be secure whatever happens."

TIME MAIN FACTOR

Britain has a triple task—protecting the British Isles against attack, playing a dominant role in rearming Western Europe, and sharing the responsibility for over-all Commonwealth defence. In all three phases, the main factor is time.

Defence of Western Europe hinges largely on the quantity of military supplies available. Organizers of the defence program look hopefully toward North America for help.

The official view is that war is not imminent. However, that feeling has not prevented the government from taking these precautions:

1. The over-all demobilization program has been slowed down; the service period for conscripts has been extended from 12 to 18 months and a full-dress recruiting campaign for the regular services has been started.

2. Production of equipment for all services is being increased.

3. The navy is taking "out of wraps" hundreds of vessels put into reserve after the Second World War ended.

4. The Pacific fleet is being doubled to a strength of two aircraft carriers, four cruisers, 12 destroyers and an undisclosed number of submarines.

5. The biggest military exercises since VE-Day have been held by the three armed forces.

6. Construction of air, land and sea bases in Kenya, East Africa, to convert that colony into the strategic nerve centre of the Commonwealth, is being speeded.

7. New civil defence plans are being worked out, to protect the population in event of enemy air attack.

ARMY OF 800,000

Best estimates are that Britain will have more than 800,000 men under arms at the end of this year, about 80,000 more than was planned before international tension put the country back on guard. This is a long way from the 4,500,000 in mid-1944 but 60 per cent more than in 1939.

So far the new recruiting drive has been disappointing. Similarly, the R.A.F. finds itself short of men and has eased its enlistment requirements. It is also keeping aircraft up-to-date, equipping squadrons with jet fighters and experimenting with jet bombers.

The navy is slowly building up a long-service force of volunteers.

Unification Of Command Would Bear Fruit

(NOTE: This is the last in a series of four articles on "How Ready is the United States?" if war should come.)

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
WASHINGTON—In the Pentagon, if war should come:

Within minutes after war was officially declared, thousands of "phantom" orders would suddenly become real and be wired to manufacturing plants all over the U.S. They would set in motion the greatest war production program ever conceived. Detailed orders, plans, specifications and contracts for war goods have already been worked out so that production of at least the basic materials would start instantaneously.

At the same time, telephone calls and wires would summon the top military chiefs to immediate conferences. Key defense men must keep the Pentagon switchboard informed of their whereabouts 24 hours a day. This is so that they can be reached immediately in a crisis. At the start of the last war much valuable time was lost and there was great confusion trying to get the military machine rolling because some of the "top" couldn't be located in a hurry.

At the emergency meeting of the Joint Chiefs of Staff it would be decided just what defense plan was needed to fit the immediate situation. Plans for all conceivable emergencies have been worked out in detail. It would take only a matter of hours, perhaps, before orders would be going out to field commanders, air commanders and to ships at sea, instructing them of their war assignments.

NO TIME-WASTING

Almost as quickly as the military might of the nation would be put on a war basis, detailed plans for the civilian defense of America would be getting under way. These plans are now taking final shape in the Pentagon, anticipating every stage of an emergency. The ridiculous, time-wasting antics of the government at the start of the last war in trying to establish a civilian defense will be avoided next time, it is hoped.

All of that readiness is one of the fruits of the unification of the armed services. The average soldier in the field of the man-in-the-street probably won't see much first-hand evidence of what it would mean during a war. Unified commands in the field, such as the one under Gen. Eisenhower in Europe and the one under Gen. MacArthur in the Pacific, were part of the last war.

Unification in the Pentagon would have its greatest effect on war production. A manufacturer of war goods wouldn't have to spend all of his time in Washington in the ante-rooms of three or four different procurement officers. At this stage of combining the services, 80 per cent of all purchasing is done under a single plan.

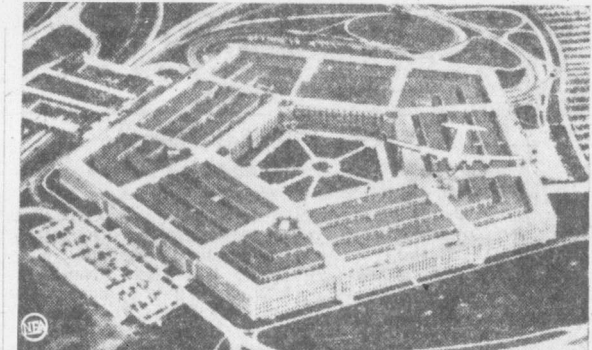

Each service buys some items exclusively, for all the services. As an example, the air force buys all the photographic equipment needed for itself, the army and the navy. The army buys all the food. The navy buys all hand tools, clocks and chronometers. Many other supplies are bought this way, too.

For items like petroleum products and medical supplies, combined boards do the buying for all the services. Under the Central Intelligence Agency of the National Military Establishment the greatest cloak and dagger operation ever launched by the U.S. would get under way. Spying and espionage will play a greater part of the next war than ever before. The details of what is cooking in C.I.G. in the way of planning is naturally top secret. But the details would probably make the spy-thriller novels seem like tame reading.

EASE PRESIDENT'S BURDEN
With a single Department of National Defense, the President would probably be less burdened by the military details of a war than he was under the old set-up, where he had several top military experts to confer with constantly. It would save his time for only the top policy decisions of war. He could still call for any advice that he wanted, however, from any source.

Directly under the President in the new national security arrangement are the National Security Council and the National Security Resources Board. The mission of the N.S.C. is to "advise the President on integration of domestic, foreign and military policy." The N.S.R.B. is assigned to "advise the President on co-ordination of military, industrial and civilian mobilization."

At a lower level, the Munitions Board would direct military purchasing and the Research and

At the Pentagon: Under its complicated roof, unification would start the greatest production program ever designed.

Development Board would supervise and co-ordinate the nation's research and scientific programs to support the war in the best manner.

If war does come, those organizations which sound sort of vague and unreal now, probably would become the most important bodies in the nation.

Greatly Overrated

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Rear-Admiral William Sterling Parsons, the United States navy's director of atomic defence, said here the atomic bomb is overrated.

"It's still just another bomb," he said.

He told interviewers the bomb was not a "quick knockout" weapon unless it could be dropped by hundreds on selected targets.

"I would advise people," he added, "to take with a grain of salt stories about a super atom bomb."

Any "sneak" attack on the United States with a few atom bombs, Parsons declared, would be "another Pearl Harbor." He added: "It would cook the goose of the country making such an attack."

Hospital Bridge Tea Draws More Than 225 Guests

More than 225 members and friends of St. Joseph's Hospital Alumnae gathered at the Nurses' Home at the hospital yesterday afternoon for a bridge and tea, sponsored by the group.

The affair realized approximately $260.

Bridge tables were arranged in the auditorium and in several smaller rooms. Afternoon tea was served in the attractive lounge, where chrysanthemums in bright autumn shades were used for decoration. A miscellaneous stall, convened by Mrs. I. Moore, was set in the library.

Mrs. R. B. Ditchburn, alumnae president, welcomed guests. Mrs. G. Rose convened the bridge and Mrs. G. Lewis, tea arrangements. Presiding at the tea table, which was covered with a Madeira cutwork cloth and centred with wine-rose chrysanthemums flanked by the same toned candles in silver holders, were Mrs. T. McPherson, Mrs. J. H. Moore, Mrs. A. C. Sinclair and Mrs. J. M. Fowler.

Others assisting were Mesdames E. H. Gandy, R. Kersey, A. Serle, P. Webb, J. Maltman, W. H. Moore, Misses J. Purves, J. Major, K. Rounding and E. Somerville.

Mrs. G. Playfair was in charge of contests and Miss A. Olsen, door tickets.

Bridge, door and special prizes were presented as follows: Mesdames G. F. Peatt, F. Hughes, S. J. Ross, P. Bird, H. Catterall, J. L. Magrath, Miss M. Jackson, Mrs. Playfair and Mrs. J. Baing.

C.P.R. Dance Friday

The opening dance of the season will be held by members of C.P.R. Social and Athletic Association Friday evening, in the clubrooms of Belleville Street. The dance is open to C.P.R. employees and their families.

Will Travel To England Via The Panama Canal

Miss Jane Ridewood is leaving Victoria this week-end for Vancouver, from where she will sail early next week aboard the motorship Duivendyk of the Holland-America line for the British Isles. Fellow travelers will be Mrs. Tom Lang, Vesuvius Lodge, Salt Spring Island, who will spend the winter months with a daughter, Mrs. Vivien, in London, Eng., and Miss Shirley Crofton of Ganges Harbor. Miss Ridewood will be accompanied to Vancouver by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Ridewood, and her sister, Elizabeth. She does not expect to return to Victoria until next spring. (Photo by Ken)

Popular Soprano Has Not Sung In Her Native City

NEW YORK (CP)—One lucky star wasn't enough for golden-haired Mary Bothwell. She must have been born under two.

"I've always wanted to be a singer," she says, "and I do like travelling, especially now that I can fly everywhere."

That's doubly fortunate. The Toronto soprano has gained an international reputation in concert and opera singing; and just back from a summer in Britain, she has three more trans-Atlantic crossings during the next four months to fulfil engagements in Europe and the United States.

"I've been singing since I was a baby," Miss Bothwell said as she took time out from practising for an interview in the tastefully-furnished apartment on Central Park West where she now lives.

Unaffected and friendly, she told something of her career. She studied as a girl at the Toronto Conservatory of Music and Toronto Academy. Then, while a student in Salzburg, Germany, in 1937, she got her first big break.

Dr. Emil Sauer, a distinguished organist, heard her sing. He was so impressed that he arranged for her to sing works by Schubert, Brahms and Strauss next day at the Salzburg Festival.

She came to New York in 1938, gave a debut recital at Town Hall, and since then has made a series of concert tours in Canada and the United States. But she has not sung in her native city, Toronto, since she was a child, she said.

ACCLAIMED IN LONDON

Miss Bothwell recalled with enthusiasm the warm reception she was given at her first London concert, in the Albert Hall in 1947. Sir Adrian Boult, conductor of the BBC Symphony Orchestra, had heard her sing in

The Netherlands and engaged her for his London promenade concerts that summer. At the first one she took the place of Marjorie Lawrence.

The audience clapped politely when I appeared," she said. "But after my first number, they went wild with applause, shouting and throwing programs in the air. It was bedlam."

She sang again at the proms in London this summer. Following a concert in New York Town Hall, Oct. 17, she flew back to London for opera appearances in Covent Garden. Then she will return for a United States tour and this will be followed by more European concerts.

Early in her career Miss Bothwell learned the principal German operatic roles, while going ahead with her concert work.

"When I am planning to do a concert I choose the numbers I want to sing, learn them and then put them aside for a time. Shortly before the concert I study them again. For me, that is the most satisfactory way to work."

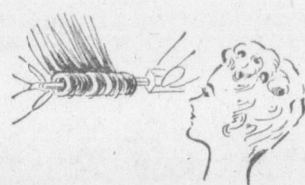

She says she finds her profession a full-time job at which "you have to keep working." But she does make time for a few hobbies, including painting and the collection of wild flowers. She proudly displays a collection which includes edelweiss and gentian from Switzerland.

Red Cross Ships Clothing To Needy

WINNIPEG (CP)—Through the efforts of Canadian women in Red Cross workrooms from coast to coast, 1,675 cases of clothing were shipped to needy persons overseas in the first seven months of this year, Miss Orjan Warwick of Toronto, national chairman of the Red Cross Women's Work Committee, said yesterday.

She was attending the two-day semiannual meeting here of the society's central council, which closed Wednesday night.

Miss Warwick said the volume of relief should be kept as high as possible this winter.

Mrs. Frank O. Evans of Montreal reported on the increasing strength of the Canadian Red Cross Corps, composed of uniformed young women who provide valuable services voluntarily. During British Columbia's spring floods, 147 members put in a total of 35,869 hours of work.

Corps members in Ontario, Alberta and Quebec also have been called on for disaster assistance during this year, Mrs. Evans said.

Carne Rebekah Lodge Autumn Bazaar

Attractive stalls of woollens, fancy work, and home cooking will be featured at the fall bazaar to be held Saturday in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street, it was announced at a meeting of Carne Rebekah Lodge No. 45.

The affair, convened by Sister Ena McCabe, P.N.G., and Sister Betty Johnson, P.N.G., will be opened at 10.30 by Sister Sarah Wilby, the first noble grand and charter member of Carne Rebekah Lodge.

Hot luncheon will be served from 11.30 to 1.30, under direction of Lucy Keiser, P.N.G., and Nellie Howes, P.N.G., will be in charge of afternoon tea to be served at 2.30.

In charge of stalls will be Sisters Lottie Smoother, P.N.G., woollens; Ethel Nicholls, fancy work; Edith Holyoak, P.N.G., aprons; Bertha Kennedy, P.N.G., candy; Bertha Downie, P.N.G., home cooking; A. B. Hastings, pot holders.

Nurses' Alumnae Halloween Dance

The Alumnae of St. Joseph's School of Nursing held a successful Halloween dance recently in the auditorium of the Nurses' Home. The affair, given especially for student nurses, was convened by Mrs. D. Jones. Mrs. W. H. Moore was in charge of refreshments, assisted by Mesdames J. Hogarth, E. H. Gandy, A. Serle, C. Lewis, P. E. Webb, Miss J. Purves and Miss J. Major. Under direction of Miss G. Sanders the hall was decorated with Halloween motifs. Others assisting were Miss J. Dengler and Miss G. Solly. There were novelty dances and prizes.

A contingent is due from Montreal and another from Ottawa. A group of ex-W.D.'s is being flown from Winnipeg in an R.C. A.F. plane. One girl is arriving from Labrador and another is on her way from Australia.

Any airwoman who still has a yen to take a flip can go on an aerial sightseeing tour of Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara Falls.

Girl Guide Notes

East Local—Mrs. Alan Morkill, who attended the 12th World Conference, World Association of Girl Guides, held at Cooperstown, N.Y., during the summer, gave a talk on the conference at a meeting of Victoria East Local Association, held at the home of Mrs. Keith McDougall. Mrs. S. C. Rogers, commissioner for North District, was presented with a cheque, being percentage of a summer garden party. Recommended for warrants as lieutenants were Ann Henderson, Yvonne Rose and Evelyn De-Kelver, and Elizabeth Holmes who attended the world conference and has recently taken over the Edith Cove Company, for captain. It was reported that a tent was donated by the local to the division for summer camp.

Welsh Society Plans Bazaar

Mrs. A. P. Sinclair is convening the Victoria Cymrodion Society bazaar to be held in the Hard of Hearing Hall, on Saturday. President A. I. Thomas, Reeve of Esquimalt, will open the affair at 2.30. There will be many interesting stalls and afternoon tea will be served. Musical numbers will be given; there will be a door prize and at 7.30 p.m. color films will be shown.

Repeated tonight—"England Today." For the hundreds who were disappointed and could not get into St. Andrew's last night to see E. H. Scott's beautiful new sound color film, "England Today," it will be repeated again tonight and full information given on the best foods to put in your parcels for Britain. St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church tonight at 8. Entire collection for food for Britain.

Women's Institute Debate Brings Surprise Conclusion

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Call it health, or what have you, but the negative side at a women's convention here today won a debate on the topic: "Do women fill public offices more capably than men?"

It was a feature of the 34th annual session of Western Ontario Women's Institutes.

The teams: Affirmative, South Oxford, Mrs. Cecil Burrill, Mrs. R. G. Mayberry, Mrs. Cecil Howard; negative, West Lambton, Mrs. John Mannen, Mrs. John Harkins, Mrs. J. W. Rooney.

Observations by the debaters: (positive). Mrs. Cecil Burrill, South Oxford: "By the time a woman has raised a family, she is fit for dealing with the same things on a larger scale—world house-keeping."

Negative: Mrs. J. W. Rooney, West Lambton: "Public office to a woman is merely a stop-gap between school and marriage—and there is no age limit to matrimonial expectancy."

Mrs. Mannen, West Lambton: "Women take criticism too personally. They consider it impertinence, while men take it for granted."

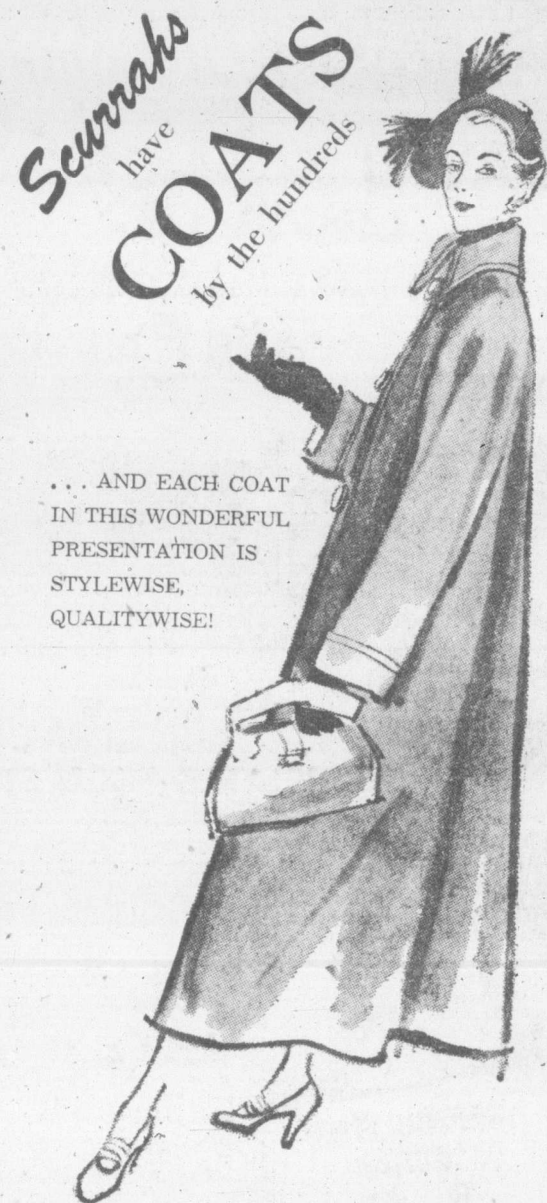

Following the film, Miss Grace Adams sang two delightful solos.

Film Show Tonight

A film, "England Today," was shown under the sponsorship of St. Andrew's Welfare Association, at St. Andrew's Presbyterian hall Wednesday evening, to raise money for food parcels.

Rev. J. L. W. MacLean acted as chairman, and it was announced that the showing of the film would be repeated tonight at St. Andrew's Hall.

Following the film, Miss Grace Adams sang two delightful solos.

Red Cross Notes

Belmont—F. J. Willway presided at the meeting of Belmont unit of the Red Cross, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen, "Marshwood," Langford Lake. Representatives present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Langrish, Luxton; Mrs. E. White, Glen Lake; Mrs. F. Willway, Colwood; W. E. Stevenson, Colwood; Mr. and Mrs. Bullen, Mrs. H. A. Hincks and Miss E. Urvoid, Langford. Miss Urvoid reported that Canada is the first country and British Columbia the first province to give free blood transfusions in all hospitals when needed. Helpers to aid the blood donor clinic to be held on Nov. 12 at Belmont High School from 6 until 9 p.m. were named.

Solarium Shower—A jam and grocery shower for the Queen Alexandra Solarium was held at the last meeting of Langford Women's Institute and it was announced that further donations would be received by Miss L. M. A. Savory, 934 Island Highway, or Mrs. H. A. Hincks, "Holmwood," Langford. Treasurer, Mrs. F. H. Staverman, reported receiving a grant of $10 for the recent flower show; Miss Savory, Mrs. J. E. McDonald and Mrs. M. Stewart reported on the institute conference; Mrs. C. Barwick spoke of plans for the community Halloween party and Mrs. Hincks of a recent visit to the Solarium. Members supported a resolution sponsored by the Local Council of Women protesting action of the B.C. hospital advisory council in not appointing a Canadian firm to make a survey of provincial hospitals and their facilities.

Richards.

Clubwomen's News

Mesachie Lake—The Mesachie Women's Club, assisted by the Knights of Pythias Lodge, are planning a bonfire, fireworks display and wieners roast for Halloween entertainment of children this Friday evening. The club is also planning a dance in the community hall on Saturday to raise funds for a children's community Christmas tree and party.

Sale and Tea—A sum of $70 was realized at the annual sale and tea, sponsored by Burgoyne Valley Ladies' Aid to the United Church, held at the home of Mrs. J. Graham, Fulford Harbor, Salt Spring Island. Conveners were as follows: Miscellaneous and home cooking, Mesdames H. Heberton, H. Lee, P. C. Mollett, C. Kinder; vegetable and fruits, Mrs. M. C. Lee; afternoon tea, Mesdames J. Fossum, J. White, F. Reid and H. Townsend.

Fire-Hundred Drive—Arrangements were made to hold the annual five hundred drive in Mahon Hall on Dec. 10, at a meeting of the Catholic Women's League, held at the home of Mrs. F. Newnham, Long Harbor, Salt Spring Island. Mrs. G. St. Denis was in the chair and treasurer's report showed a balance of $255. Mrs. St. Denis was named convener for the drive. Afternoon tea was served by the hostess assisted by Mesdames G. Anderson, St. Denis and A. MacDonald.

Anonymous Donor—A sum of $20 received anonymously by the Women's Auxiliary to the Children's Aid Society will be used to buy wool for baby garments. It was announced at a meeting held with President Mrs. D. McArdie in the chair, Miss M. Wright and Miss D. Trenholme were present as representatives of the society. A report of equipment purchased for the nursery was heard; a quantity of material handed out to members to sew and plans made for a rummage sale and a membership tea.

Salt Spring—Plans to hold a telephone bridge and whist drive, the last two weeks of November, were made at the Salt Spring Island P.T.A. meeting held in the school at Ganges Harbor, with president, Mrs. R. Childerstone in the chair. Mrs. A. M. Brown and Mrs. J. B. Foubister were named conveners of the affair. Miss M. Hague, a new teacher who recently arrived from England, will address members at their next meeting on the differences between school teaching in Canada and England. Members decided to start a membership drive. A quiz contest was held and later refreshments served by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Childerstone.

Lunchroom Popular—It was announced at a meeting of King's Daughters at their headquarters, that the attendance in the lunchroom is increasing and more men as well as girls are attending. A report on a successful bazaar was given. Fellowship Circle members are knitting afghans for V.O.N.; members of Hawthorne Circle purchased flannellette for children's nighties; a parcel of food was sent to Britain by the Ministering Circle. Ready-to-Help Circle is sewing for Red Cross, and Speedwell Circle is planning ways of raising funds to remodel King's Daughters' cabin at Sunshine Camp.

Honeymoon Bay—A bonfire fireworks display and wieners roast for children of the community will be held Saturday from 7 to 9.30, by members of Honeymoon Bay Ladies' Club. For grown-ups, there will be a "box social" and dance later in the evening. Those attending will go in "hard times" or masquerade costume. Pat Blackman will supply music. Mrs. A. F. Irwin, president of the ladies' club, is in charge of arrangements.

Benefit Sale—It was decided at the business meeting of Royal Jubilee Hospital Women's Auxiliary, held at the nurses' home, that a benefit sales day would be held Nov. 8 at Hudson's Bay store. Mrs. J. D. Hunter presided and new members, Mrs. Gordon Agnew, Mrs. Howard Bell and Mrs. A. McBean were welcomed. Mrs. H. Heisterman reported that 171 sewing articles were completed, and members voted to buy more attractive china for private rooms in the hospital. An appeal for taggers for the auxiliary corner, on "Poppy" day was made, and a report was given of the B.C. Hospital Auxiliaries' convention. Mrs. S. H. Okell, general convener of bride tea, reported proceeds netted $1,000.

Anscomb Scores Higher Pay Without Output Increase

Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb said in Vancouver Wednesday night it was nonsense to try to improve conditions by raising wages while the supply of what labor wants is being reduced.

Addressing the convention of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, British Columbia's acting premier, said:

"... Consumption must equal production. In the modern community it is impossible for the rich to grow richer and the poor poorer because an increase of riches means an increase in the productive equipment, an increased demand for labor and a greater supply of goods to be distributed to the population.

"The major problem is how to convince the laborer that the fundamental thing is to increase production."

Mr. Anscomb, who is Progressive Conservative leader in British Columbia, said that B.C. had some of the most enlightened and up-to-date labor laws to be found in North America.

"More than that, I am going to predict that other parts of North America are going to find it worth while to look at the British Columbia example and adapt some of the best features of our labor law reforms to their own particular requirements," he said.

"As proof of the pudding" he reported that in 1946 there were 525 strikes affecting 40,014 employees and causing a loss of 1,291,202 man days of work. Following the introduction of the new labor code, there were in 1947, he said, 65 strikes, affecting 6,376 employees and costing 153,168 man days.

The minister told the delegates that it was more important for them to take an active interest in the political life of the nation than in the Chamber of Commerce or any other organization. He said Canada was at the crossroads of history facing the danger of communism which was taking hold of the land and you and I are doing little about it.

"Never forget that your business is only as strong and stable as the political life of this country," he said. "I ask you to accept the duty and the challenge before it is too late."

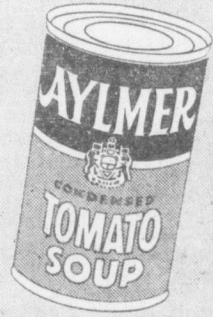

Tories Of B.C. To Meet Saturday

VANCOUVER (CP)—Annual meeting of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative Association will be held here Saturday under the chairmanship of Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, M.P., president. Hon. Herbert Anscomb, provincial party leader and Minister of Finance, will address the meeting.

YOUR FAMILY DESERVES AYLMER QUALITY

SPRING OR AUTUMN?—These two oak trees, which stand side by side on the Cedar Hill golf course, are enough to cause a person to run to his calendar and check up on the time of year. Tree at left is just breaking out in green, while the other has already finished shedding this year's foliage. One explanation for the phenomenon is that tree at left was attacked in the spring by oak looper, which destroyed its first leaves. Now the tree is sending out leaves to manufacture food for the winter. Incidentally, acorns this fall are less plentiful than usual. The oaks seem to be taking a rest, as most trees do, according to experts, after heavy acorn production last year.

Vanishing Canadian Horse Coming To Rest In Tin Cans

WINNIPEG (CP)—A tin can has become the final resting place for old Dobbin in some parts of Canada.

No longer required in the machine age to carry the whole weight of man's burden, the horse is winding up on some Canadian grocery shelves.

But the words "horse meat" evoke a divergence of opinion among Canadian shoppers. There are those who maintain it should be made available to consumers, especially when beef is in short supply. Buffalo, deer, bear and many other animals have been slaughtered to supply dinner tables. Why not horse meat? they ask.

CALLS IT A SHAME

But many persons share the opinion of Sally Warnock, secretary-director of Winnipeg's Humane Society. She says:

"It seems a shame that the old horse, that faithful friend who helps man in making a livelihood, should be butchered and eaten just when prices rise and things begin to get tough... why should people eat the poor little horse?"

"I would rather have no fresh meat at all than eat horse meat."

Leading exponent of the sale of horse meat for human consumption in this area is Martin Sorensen, a butcher of Danish origin.

"All this fuss about eating horse meat is ridiculous," he says. "It is eaten in Britain, France and Denmark and these are all fine civilized people."

Sorensen is largely responsible for passage of a by-law in adjoining St. Boniface, Man., legalizing the sale of horse meat. But he can't locate premises for a shop where he plans to deal exclusively in the sale of horse meat.

"It's cheaper and it tastes just as good as ordinary beef, perhaps sweeter," he says. "Of course it's something you don't want to eat all the time—just like fish."

Sorensen also seeks to open a horse meat butcher shop in Winnipeg. The city fathers, however, hesitate and haven't even decided whether to accept the butcher's invitation to taste the meat.

Although Winnipeg's health committee has found itself unable to say "yes" or "no" to Sorensen's application, cans bearing the label "Horse meat and gravy" have been on sale in one leading store for more than two weeks. They are intended for human consumption.

NO RULES DRAFTED

There are no regulations covering the sale of horse meat in Winnipeg, says Dr. M. S. Lougheed, medical health officer.

While Manitobans are showing hesitation about Dobbin's status, horse meat is being packed at Swift Current, Sask., and being offered for sale in Saskatchewan.

Sale of the meat is expected to meet stiff opposition in Alberta, the prairie's ranching province. To a horseman, eating horse meat smacks of cannibalism.

Quebec and the Maritimes aren't as hesitant as the west in legalizing sale of equine flesh

Clarkson Runs Wild In Y.M.C.A. Victory

Eagles came close to upsetting the powerful Y.M.C.A. cagers and notching their first senior A victory last night, but the efforts of one man spoiled their chances. Reg. Clarkson, scoring 11 straight points in the fourth quarter, brought his squad from behind to take a commanding nine-point lead halfway through the stanza, and by the time it was all over, "Y" had captured a 48 to 41 decision.

As a result of their win, Y.M.C.A. now pace the league with three wins in as many starts to lead the runner-up K.V.'s by two points.

Birdmen held a 6 to 0 lead in the affair before the clubmen got rolling to tie the score at 10-all late in the first quarter, and go on to hold a 14 to 11 edge going into the second canto. Eagles moved steadily up in the second and wound up just one point off the pace, 23 to 22 at the breather.

LEAD CHANGES

Third quarter was a hectic affair with the lead switching several times. It was tied, 29 to 29 with about two minutes left, when Bernie Anderson sank a free shot for Eagles only to see big Johnny Clark sink a two-pointer for winners. Just before the three-quarter whistle, however, Anderson regained the lead for the feathered tribe, 32 to 31. Losers went ahead, 34 to 32, but Clarkson suddenly ran wild just before going off the floor on personals. Clarkson gained 16 points for the night's work, while Jimmy Ranson was close behind for Eagles, sinking 13.

In the opening game, Tillicums capitalized on a last-minute basket by Norm Dalman to gain a close 20 to 18 decision from Esquimalt in a junior boy's tussle, after the latter had held the lead for the better part of the affair.

Elks were no match for the strong Victoria College intermediate A quintette and the students walked off with a convincing 54 to 17 victory. Evan Oakley and Keith Lamont led the attack with 17 and 12 points, respectively.

Teams and scores follow:

Y.M.C.A.—Clark 8, Dale 5, V. Clarkson 8, Mason 8, Wright 8, R. Clarkson 16, Eagles—Brown 4, Tooby 2, Anderson 7, Hanson 19, Bane 4, Loh 6, McCorkill 2, Page 3.
Victoria College—Oakley 17, McKinnon 8, Corry 2, Basi 5, Robinson, Gundison, Louie 4, Canova 6, Lamont 12.
Elks—Green 3, Carroll 4, Patterson, Alair 3, Saunders, McArthur, Davidson 3, Rogers 2, Powell, Riddell.
Tillicums—Stewart 2, Davies 2, Bray 4, Dalman 3, Shields 3, White 1, Gregg, Tripp, Hanson 5, Chou 4, Saunders 7, Esquimalt—Douglas 2, Carter, Hunter, Pearce 2, Fletcher.

Al Principe Given Boxing Monopoly

VANCOUVER (CP)—Boxing promoter Al Principe won't have to worry about competition for at least the remainder of this year.

Ald. Alex Fisher, chairman of the Vancouver Boxing Commission, Wednesday, cleared the decks for Principe by tossing overboard all Vancouver boxing promoters except Principe. In making the move public, Alderman Fisher said: "We think Principe is entitled to a break. The others have shown no inclination to put on fight shows in Vancouver lately and there is no sense in keeping a gun point in Principe's head."

Select Directors

Isabel Jarvis and Dr. E. Whitmore have been added to the directorate of the Gorge Vale Golf Club it was announced following a meeting of the members this week. Their election completes the board.

Members discussed the appointment of a new secretary following the recent resignation of secretary-manager Jim Smart. Applications will be accepted for the secretary's position until 6, Nov. 2.

Canada Casts Eyes At World Speedboat Title

TORONTO (CP)—Canada hopes to lift the British international trophy—symbol of world-wide speedboat racing leadership—from Gar Wood, Detroit speedster who has held it for 28 years.

Canadian boatmen are banking on Ernie Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont., whose Miss Canada III won the silver cup at the Detroit international regatta last August.

The Motor Boat Club of Canada, formed here yesterday, plans to seek affiliation with the Union of International Motor

Forecast $65,000 Title Fight Gate

NEW YORK (AP)—A gate of $65,000 is seen for Willie Pep's featherweight boxing title defence against Sandy Saddler tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden.

The Hartford, Conn., world champion is a 5-12 favorite over the New York challenger.

Saddler has 63 knockouts in 90-odd professional starts.

New Westminster Edges Canucks To Tighten Ice Race

San Francisco failed to find a rival today for the southern division leadership in the Coast Hockey League. The northern division race was not so clear cut.

The Shamrocks tightened their hold on the southern division top spot last night by bouncing the Los Angeles Monarchs 6 to 3, thereby avenging the only defeat they have suffered this season.

In the north the Portland Eagles climbed into a first-place tie with the Seattle Ironmen by defeating the Ironmen 5 to 2 on the latter's home ice.

The New Westminster Royals tightened the northern race a little more by moving into a second-place tie with Vancouver. They beat the visiting Canucks 5 to 3.

At San Francisco, the Shamrocks held a 4 to 1 lead going into the third period. Bob Hergesheimer and Joe La France each scored in the final frame to equal the points shot by Los Angeles' Cam Church and Al Papke.

The Eagles took command at Seattle in the second period, laying in three straight to break a 2 to 2 tie. Goalie Tom Karakas headed off a determined Ironmen rally in the third.

Tallies by Bob Gibson in the second period and Ray Voll in the third clinched the New Westminster contest for the Royals.

Tolmie Captures School Soccer Tilt

Tolmie School's soccer squad qualified to meet Willows in an elementary school intersection playoff next week by edging Quadra, 2 to 1, yesterday.

Winners grabbed an early lead in the tilt when Bob Cummins found the hem, but Nicholson squared the match with his tally shortly before the first half terminated. Gary Crowe shot the winning marker for Tolmie in the second half. Quadra put up a hard-fought attack attempting to tie the score, but could not pierce winner's strong defence.

MONTREAL (CP)—McGill University retained the eastern Canada intermediate intercollegiate track and field championship at Molson Stadium Wednesday by accumulating 71½ points to lead Macdonald College and Dawson College of Montreal, Carleton College of Ottawa and Bishop's University of Lennoxville, Que., in that order.

Leafs And Hawks Throw Punches

Members of the Chicago Black Hawks showed little scoring punch against Toronto Maple Leafs last Saturday night but they did a fair job with their dukes. On two occasions during the N.H.L. game the members of the clubs engaged in fist-slinging and grappling. Above, the linesmen are seen breaking up a near-riot. That's Bob Goldham (No. 3) of the Hawks while Fleming Mackell of the Leafs, who scored his first goal in an N.H.L. game, is in the background, facing the camera. Toronto won 6 to 1.

Dark Named Rookie Of Year In National

By JOS REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Alvin Dark, brilliant young shortstop of Boston Braves, was voted today the National League's baseball rookie of the year.

It was a virtual landslide for the 25-year-old native of Lake Charles, La. In a country-wide poll conducted by the Associated Press, Dark romped in as the No. 1 freshman of 1948 with 160 out of a possible 220 votes.

Only four other players received consideration from the baseball experts. Richie Ashburn, Flashy Philadelphia outfielder, was a poor second with 57 votes. Pitcher Robin Roberts and flycatcher Johnny Blatnik, teammates of Ashburn, each got one vote as did outfielder Hank Sauer of Cincinnati Reds.

Dark gained the distinction by his fine batting, his skill in the field, his speed afoot and his colorful all-around play. In 137 games, the former all-around athlete at Louisiana State University batted .322 to finish third among the regulars.

SECOND TRIUMPH

It was the second time in his brief career that Dark has been acclaimed as the No. 1 freshman of his league. Signed by the Braves in the summer of 1946 for a reported $40,000 bonus figure, Dark was sent to the Milwaukee Club of the American Association the following year. Al played in 15 games for the Braves in '46, but that did not disqualify him for rookie honors in '48.

The five foot, 11 inch, 185-pound youngster, in his first full season in professional baseball, batted .303 for the Brewers, led the circuit in doubles and total base hits, and was hailed as the top A.A. rookie.

When Dark reported to the Braves in Bradenton, Fla., last spring, he immediately caught the eye of manager Billy Southworth, and was informed the shortstop berth was his if he could hold it.

The responsibility proved too much for the kid at first. His hitting fell off and his fielding suffered, as a result. Two weeks after the opening of the regular campaign, he found himself on the bench, with Sibby Sisti taking over the regular shortstop duties.

An injury to Sisti gave Dark another chance. Although Sisti soon recovered, Dark never gave him another opportunity to return to the shortstop post. Alvin liked a different ball player. Tutored considerably by Eddie Stanky, his keystone partner, Dark soon began to show noticeable improvement. He regained his confidence almost overnight. His hitting improved to such an extent that before long he was facing his teammates at bat.

Joe Velez Scores Knockout Over Dolan

SPOKANE (AP)—Joe Velez of Spokane steamed a vicious right into the mid-section of lightweight Joey Dolan at the end of the seventh round Wednesday night to earn an official eight-round knockout in their scheduled 10-round boxing match. Velez weighed 129½ and Dolan 126½.

Coast Pro Cage League Decides To Fold For Year

SEATTLE (AP)—The Pacific Coast Professional Basketball League is abandoning plans to operate as a four-team circuit this year, one of the franchise owners said Wednesday.

The Seattle, Bellingham and Vancouver clubs had hoped to line up a fourth team for the circuit, which was established only last season.

However, Don Adams, spokesman for the Seattle team, said efforts to get a fourth city into the league have failed. Victoria had been rumored as a possible fourth entry.

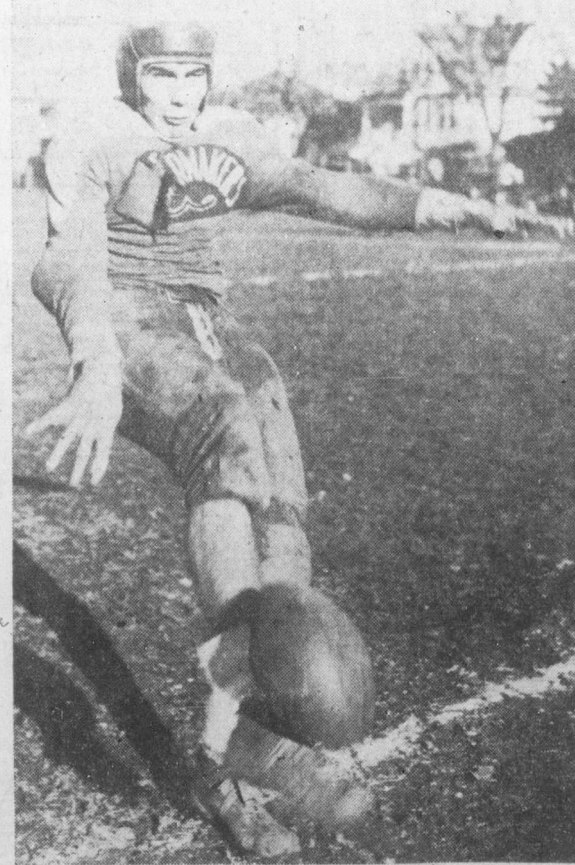

He added, however, that the league plans to bring touring pros teams from the east to play successively against the three still active clubs.

He said pros from Detroit, New York and Denver, as well as the Harlem Globe Trotters are expected to be booked.

"We expect to operate again as a league next season," Adams said, "and we want to keep the pro game alive this year."

The league had been dickered with businessmen in Tacoma and Bremerton to set up a possible fourth team.

LEN SCOTT

When Victoria Cougars tackle Vancouver Meralomas in a Canadian football clash at Macdonald Park Saturday afternoon, Scott will be in the fullback berth for the local squad. Coach Lou Mogul stated today he is highly pleased with the performance of the rugged Scott and figures the move to put him at back will prove a good one. Cougars have engaged in nightly training sessions this week in preparation for invasion of the mainlanders. Kickoff is set for 2:30.

Detroit-Toronto Come From Behind For Hockey Triumphs

WITH THE ARRIVAL at home of a large pumpkin in preparation for the celebration of Halloween, combined with the sight of the good spouse sneaking around hiding early arriving Christmas presents from our small son, one realize winter is upon us. Which is just a way of leading up to the question: What has happened to the wrestlers? Have been expecting the grunt and groaners to come forth with the announcement of their first show any day.

AS A MATTER of fact promoter Rocky Brooks has been conspicuous by his absence from this office in recent months. He must have got himself buried in some new project out Brentwood way. Last winter the wrestlers enjoyed a fair amount of success operating at the Armories and fully expected them to pick up where they left off in April. The rasslers are working in weekly shows at Vancouver so there should be no trouble lining up cards. Maybe these few words will smoke Brooks out of hiding.

SECOND ANNUAL edition of the National Hockey League Guide reached me this week and the publication provides a wealth of interesting statistics and other valuable information. Several features have been added such as playing rosters of the six clubs for the 1948-49 season; top 10 scorers from 1926-27 to 1947-48; chronological history of the N.H.L. during its 31-year existence; 10 year players in the league and 20-goal players during the 1947-48 season.

JUST TO PROVIDE the hockey fans with some of the more interesting records I quote from the book: Unbeaten home record — Montreal Canadiens played their entire schedule of 25 home games in 1943-44 without a defeat. Canadiens won 22 and tied 3. . . Longest non-shutout record — New York Rangers went 126 games without being shut out. . . Most consecutive wins — Boston Bruins went 14 games without being tied or defeated. . . Most penalties by one team in a single season — Toronto Maple Leafs had a team total of 758 minutes in penalties in 60 games in 1947-48. . . Fastest three goals — Carl Liscombe of Detroit Red Wings scored three goals in one minute and 52 seconds against Chicago on March 13, 1938. . . Most individual penalties in one game — Jack Stewart of Detroit Red Wings incurred six minor penalties in one game against New York Rangers in New York on Feb. 28, 1943.

While Detroit Red Wings were keeping their first-place fires burning, Montreal Canadiens last night dropped their first game in the young National Hockey League season.

Detroit moved three points ahead of the pack by coming from behind to edge the youthful New York Rangers 3 to 2. Montreal went down by the same score before Toronto Maple Leafs, the second win of the year for the Stanley Cup holders.

It was the first home game of the season for the injury-riddled Rangers.

Rangers threw a scare into the Red Wings as they shot into a 2 to 0 lead midway in the second period and carried the play throughout the game.

For the Leafs, it was revenge

	W.	L.	D.	F.	A.	Pts.
Detroit	4	0	1	5	4	9
Boston	3	0	0	16	5	6
Canadiens	2	1	2	16	6	6
Toronto	2	3	0	11	14	4
Rangers	0	3	1	4	15	1
Chicago	0	4	0	7	25	0

for the 5 to 0 beating they took from Canadiens in their first meeting this year.

Boston Bruins, undefeated and untied in three games this year, tonight meet Chicago Black Hawks, beaten in their four games to date, in Black Hawks home opener.

Boston and Montreal still are tied for second place, three points behind Detroit. Toronto follows with four, New York has a solitary tie and Chicago has failed even to bruise the scoring column.

Twice Leafs came from behind to beat Bill Durnan, fresh from two consecutive shutouts in the Montreal nets.

WATSON TIES SCORE

Big Harry Watson tied the score in the second period after Maurice Richard knifed past three Leafs to beat Turk Broda.

The Habitués moved ahead again in the first minute of the second period when Elmer Lach and Richard set up Rookie George Robertson while Bill Barilko sat out a tripping penalty.

Howie Meeker banged in Ed Kennedy's rebound to tie it up again and Max Bentley netted the winner, his first goal of the season. It was a close-range shot on a pass from defenceman Gus Moatson.

Rangers had at least a moral victory—they scored twice on Harry Lumley, who had let only two pucks past him in his first four games this year.

The first one came in the first minute of play when Eddie Kullman pushed home a long shot. Little Dunc Fisher got the second on a close-in shot.

Playing his first game for Red Wings since he was traded by Chicago, Bud Poile collected a goal and an assist to share honors with Ted Lindsay.

Veteran Sid Abel fired a 40-foot blast past Chuck Rayner for the winners in the final period.

TORONTO-CANADIENS

First Period—Scoring, none. Penalties, Esquimaux (2), Harvey, Lach. Second Period—1, Montreal, Richard (Robertson), 2:29, 2, Toronto, Watson (Kilkey), 13:45. Penalties, Model, Gayer, Riopelle, Barilko. Third Period—3, Montreal, Robertson (Richard, Lach), 25; 4, Toronto, Meeker (Kennedy, Morison), 2:21; 5, Toronto, Benny (Morison), 5:23. Second Period—2, New York, Fisher (Kalela), 5:48; 3, Detroit, Lindsay (Poile), 11:27; 4, Detroit, Poile, 17:16. Penalties: Mor, Fisher, Hale. Third Period—5, Detroit, Abel (Howe, Lindsay), 7:37. Penalties: Lindsay, Fisher.

Olympic Official Ridicules Charges Of Percy Norman

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Charges of Percy Norman of Vancouver against the Canadian Olympic Association, including a threat to sue for the return of $300, were laughed off here by Prof. Nelson C. Hart, honorary secretary of the C.O.A.

Prof. Hart said that the C.O.A. never received any such sum from the B.C. branch. It dealt directly with the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association, which contributed $800 and has promised another $200. He pointed out that the team manager paid his own expenses to the Olympic Games.

Prof. Hart denied without reservation also (1) that Olympic officials stayed in first-class hotels in Britain and attended social functions more often than the athletes, (2) that the swim team was told at Montreal en route to the games that its number would have to be cut unless provincial bodies put up more money, and (3) that treatment of the swimmers by the Olympic body was "shameful."

Prof. Hart suggested that Norman "must have had his tongue in his cheek when he mentioned 'suing.' Everybody knows that the C.O.A. is purely a volunteer organization which cannot 'sue' and cannot 'be sued.'"

He added that "as Norman was not with the Canadian team, his remarks can be taken with the proverbial 'grain of salt.' The charge that officials attended social functions more often than did their athletic charges is childish and untrue."

New Players Enter Ice Scoring Race

Boston's Ed Sandford retained his lead in the scoring race even with Boston idle last night.

Gaining entry into the big seven last night were Montreal winger George Robertson, who added a goal and an assist to his scoring record, and Gus Morison of the Toronto Maple Leafs, who made two pay-off passes.

Leaders follow:	G.	A.	Pts.
Sandford, Boston	5	2	7
Warwick, Boston	4	4	6

Chandler Cuts Loose Detroit Farm Hands

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tigers are back in baseball's "doghouse," stripped of 10 minor-league players in a ruling by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Chandler's order parallels the late Kenesaw M. Landis' sweeping 1940 decision which freed 91 players, including four major leaguers, owned by Detroit. The Chandler ultimatum, however, cuts no major leaguers free nor does it assess any fine against the parent Detroit club. But the issue is much the same. The Tigers are charged with "covering up" the movement of players in their minor-league system by making invalid oral agreements governing disposal of certain men signed to contracts with farm clubs in 1946 and 1947.

Specifically, Chandler's decree makes the 10 players free agents and punishes Detroit for the manner in which the players were handled—"contrary to baseball law and procedure." Chandler's decision affects nobody now with Detroit.

EVANS SURPRISED

General manager Billy Evans of the Detroit club issued a statement in which he disclaimed knowledge that the players were handled in a manner contrary to baseball law.

"The decision of Commissioner Chandler comes as a complete surprise," he said. "The Detroit club accepts it as final, but we thoroughly disagree with it."

The players freed by Chandler include: Clem Cola, James A. Moran and Donald T. Myers, all now with the Little Rock, Ark., club in the Southern Association; Paul E. Hinrichs and William R. Sereno, now with Buffalo of the International League; Clifford Dooley, Paul G. Aherns, William P. Macdonald Jr., and Ernest J. Wilemon, now with Flint, Mich., and Oswald E. Kolwe, a pitcher who was transferred from Little Rock to the Tigers last Sept. 1.

Freshman Kramer Given Top Ranking Among Tennis Pros

NEW YORK (AP)—Freshman Jack Kramer of Los Angeles heads United States professional tennis rankings for 1948.

The U.S. Professional Tennis Association placed the hard-hitting Californian on top in announcing its "Big Ten" of the year.

Bobby Riggs of Chicago was given the No. 2 spot, followed by Don Budge, also of Los Angeles. Both formerly topped the pro ranks.

Kramer, who was the world's top-ranking amateur before turning pro after the 1947 season, won the professional championship tournament at Forest Hills and outclassed

Riggs in their cross-country series. Wayne Sabin, former Pacific Northwest ranking amateur now of Bretton Woods, N.H., was ranked 6th.

Greco, Gagnon Win Bouts By Knockouts

MONTREAL (CP)—Johnny Greco Wednesday night won a sixth-round technical knockout over Gaby Ferland when Ferland failed to answer the bell. The Canadian welterweight champion had his fellow Montrealese in serious trouble in the fifth.

Greco weighed 151, Ferland 147½. In another 10-rounder, Fernand Gagnon of Quebec, Canadian bantamweight champion, registered a sixth-round T.K.O. over Pancho Calderon of Puerto Rico. Gagnon weighed 122 and Calderon 116.

Dick Porter Quits As Toronto Manager

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies announced Wednesday that Dick Porter, manager of Toronto Maple Leafs in the International Baseball League, has resigned.

"He plans to remain in baseball," said a club spokesman, "but has no plans now as to where he will go."

Asked the reason for the resignation, the spokesman replied: "I don't know."

Edmonton Warms Up To Football Return

By KEN KELLY

EDMONTON (CP)—The football season produces a glow in the heart of many a westerner as he eyes Calgary Stampeder's chances of doing big things in the east. But many an Edmonton citizen is beginning to wonder if the gateway to the north hasn't been left out in the cold.

Three thousand such citizens got a thrill watching the western conference Saskatchewan Roughriders trim University of Alberta Golden Bears 19 to 7 in an exhibition grid tilt. But then they began to ask why Edmonton isn't in the western conference, too.

Two of the most ebullient of these questioners are Stan (Edmonton Bulletin) Moher and George (Edmonton Journal) Macintosh. Both think it's about time something was said loudly enough to awaken echoes of the old western conference Edmonton Eskimos.

"For the past month and more the volume of talk relative to a possible Edmonton team in the conference has been steadily increasing," says Stan. "Talk is cheap all right, but at least grid enthusiasts hereabouts have surmounted one big hurdle. The project no longer is looked upon as impossible of accomplishment."

COULD GAIN CONCESSIONS
"What of material? Agreed"

an acknowledged shortage of talent will prove as big a rub as the problem of financing. However, an Edmonton entry could ask certain temporary concessions of the league, such as being permitted the use of more than five U.S. imports. In the meantime, the junior league and high school circuits will be turning out some players with a future."

George feels pretty much the same.

"And when do we (Edmonton, that is) make a return to western senior football? There was a time when the late Deacon White and his Eskimos made sports reading in all the better sheets across the country—like the Stampeder, Roughriders and Bombers are still doing."

"And when you see something like 8,000 fans storming into Mewata Stadium to watch the Stampeder in action, it strikes any Edmontonian that it's time we were back in the thick of this football business."

Bob Schmied Leads Junior Ice Scoring

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—Calgary players are showing the way in the new Western Canada Junior Hockey League's individual scoring race. Statistics released today by J. H. Parry of Moose Jaw, league secretary-manager, show members of the leading Calgary Buffaloes holding down five places in the first "big seven" compiled.

Bob Schmied holds down top position with eight points made up of five goals and three assists. Merv Clouston of Medicine Hat and Dave Gilhooley, also of Calgary, share runner-up spot with five points each.

Calling All Cars
in need of better service

Many car owners have come to us and said "I've heard so many nice things about you that I wish you would service my car—but unfortunately it isn't a Chrysler or a Plymouth."

So right here and now we cordially invite any motorist—no matter what make of car he drives—to come to us if he is looking for better service. We guarantee the same prompt attention, careful work and fair dealing that has made our Chrysler and Plymouth owners so happy.

W. & J. WILSON 1221 GOVERNMENT SERVING VICTORIA 86 YEARS

Plenty Of California Produce Here On Monday

Lettuce, tomatoes and grapes from California will arrive in Victoria next week, wholesale dealers reported today. First shipments are expected Monday. They will be the first to cross the border since the Canadian government barrier to conserve United States dollars was set up last year.

Removal of the embargo has already had its effect here. Hot house tomatoes have dropped $2 a crate. This works out to a 10 cent a pound reduction for the consumer.

Pink grapefruit from Florida are now back on the market and further shipments will be arriving weekly. Bananas are plentiful and will remain so for two weeks. They will likely be short toward the end of the second week of November, however.

Wholesalers are expecting an increase in onion prices, since there is a big export market for Canadian onions this year.

Driver Of Car Faces Charge Of Manslaughter

Kenneth B. Poskitt, 40, of 1637 Pembroke Street, appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court this morning and had a charge of manslaughter read against him in connection with the traffic death of 59-year-old Melvin Cooper Graham, 1932 Balmoral Road, Wednesday.

Perry Miller appeared for the accused as defence counsel. Magistrate Hall set Nov. 2 for the preliminary hearing.

Graham was rushed to Jubilee Hospital by city police around 6:12 Monday evening when they found him injured after being knocked down by the Poskitt car near the intersection of Vancouver Street and Pandora Avenue.

The injured man died in the hospital Wednesday afternoon at 1.

Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, reports that an inquest into the death will be held next Monday morning at 10 at McCall Bros. Funeral Parlors.

Constables William Reekie, George Godsmark, Arthur Deeks and Lester Clark attended at the accident scene for city police.

According to their report on the police blotter, accused's car was proceeding west on Pandora and struck Graham who was crossing Pandora from south to north about 48 feet west of where Vancouver intersects.

This death brings the toll of lives in Victoria and district from traffic accidents this year to 11.

Graham was rushed to Jubilee Hospital by city police around 6:12 Monday evening when they found him injured after being knocked down by the Poskitt car near the intersection of Vancouver Street and Pandora Avenue.

The injured man died in the hospital Wednesday afternoon at 1.

More Funds Sought To Fight Accidents

John Shirras, commissioner of the B.C. Police, will ask the provincial government to increase appropriations for traffic control in British Columbia to cut down the province's mounting traffic accident and death rate, it was learned today.

The commissioner will seek more cars to patrol the 25,000 miles of provincial highways and other roads policed by the B.C. police. The commissioner would also like to include extensive testing of cars for mechanical defects.

Victorian Wounded

Const. James McGary, formerly of Victoria, and son of Mrs. E. McGary, 646 Hillside Avenue, with B.C. Police detachment at Maillardville, B.C., who is in New Westminster Hospital recovering from knife-slashing wounds to both wrists, inflicted when a man he was taking to Essondale Tuesday attacked him with a jack-knife. Const. McGary is married to the former Miss Joyce Murphy of Victoria.

Mrs. J. Dinsley, Pioneer, Dies At 84

Mrs. Jessie Dinsley, a pioneer resident of Victoria who had lived here all her life, died Tuesday, in St. Joseph's Hospital at the age of 84.

A native of the city, Mrs. Dinsley was the last surviving member of the original Crowther family, which settled here originally in 1855.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 1:30 from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Home, interment at Ross Bay.

Society To Help In Borsal After-Care

Will Consider Changing Office Hours To Help Bus Overcrowding

The provincial cabinet will consider a change in the opening and closing hours of government offices in this area which city and municipal officials believe would alleviate the crowding of buses of the Greater Victoria transportation system during rush hours.

Ald. Harold M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria transportation committee was so advised today by Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson. Ald. Diggon asked in a letter to the secretary last week that the question be considered.

At the same time the alderman will interview heads of the city's two major department stores on the feasibility of changing the opening and closing hours of their business.

He explains: "We are well aware of the discomfort and inconvenience bus passengers are subjected to during early morning and evening rush hours, but there are two sides to the picture.

40,000 Calls Made On Householders By Campaign Workers

Close to 40,000 calls have been made during the past three and one-half weeks on Greater Victoria households by canvassers of the Community Chest, it was estimated today by Mrs. A. H. Cox, chairman of the residential canvass division, in the campaign to raise $180,000.

"The canvassers—all volunteers—have been doing a splendid job," Mrs. Cox said. "Some of them have gone back to houses four or five times after they had made their first call and found no one at home."

Householders have given canvassers a much better reception this year and have contributed more than before. Mrs. Cox believes this indicates that more people are familiarizing themselves with the work of the Community Chest and are realizing the important part it plays for the welfare of the whole area.

About 850 persons have worked this year as volunteer canvassers and very few households have not been called on. Those which have, are requested to take or mail their contributions to campaign headquarters, Prince Robert House.

Householders have given canvassers a much better reception this year and have contributed more than before. 6 DAYS
TO

NOVEMBER 2

Suppose your doctor said you had six days to live.

You would have many things to do.

So has the Community Chest.

Your campaign has been on for 23 days

To the public first . . .

There are some of you have the following yet to do:

1. To subscribe. If you have not been canvassed, send your donation to Community Chest, care Prince Robert House. We have endeavored to cover the city. Our eight hundred workers have done yeoman service, but they are very few among 100,000 people. Now is the time for you to support them by sending your donation direct.
2. If you have subscribed, be sure you have given enough. Any one who has worked with Community Chest can say to you in all sincerity that the work is worth-while, the money is properly expended, and the whole scheme is necessary to our community life.
3. Be sure your neighbors and your friends have done their share. They may be among the people who do not know or care.

To our salesmen and sales ladies (canvassers):

Be on hand for the final six days. Collect your money. If a job is worth doing it is worth doing well. Report to your captain. Finish your job.

PUBLIC-SPEAKING CLASS—Believing more younger men should take active roles in civic and provincial affairs, the Victoria Chamber of Commerce has again started a speakers' group where members can learn to properly express their thoughts in words. Members of the group, shown listening to Miss Doris Bagshawe, voice-production and public-speaking instructor, are, left to right: Norm Parkins, Glen Murdoch, chairman; Clyde Elford, Jim Isaac, George Geddes, Stan Roberts, Andy Green, Don Parkinson, Gordon Jennings.

Absentee Trustees Scored By Board At Rural Meeting

COBBLE HILL—Absenteeism of school trustees from Cowichan School District No. 65, was scored at a rural area meeting in Sylvania School, when G. E. Bonner was the only Cowichan trustee present.

Those attending the meeting felt many questions went unanswered owing to the situation and a motion was passed asking that at least two trustees attend every meeting in the rural areas.

Richard Brown was re-elected representative of Sylvania School. A motion urging removal of the 3 per cent sales tax was passed. A second motion called for the discarding of the whole present school building program and submission of a by-law, more in line with present building costs.

Appearance of the school and grounds, with clearing done largely through the efforts of Trustee Bonner, was approved by the meeting. G. F. Dyson, secretary of the school board and Col. R. M. Lefdrum, senior principal, attended.

Logger Loses Fingers In Mill Accident

HONEYMOON BAY—Walter Hamilton of Honeymoon Bay, employee of Western Forest Industries Ltd., lost two fingers and part of the thumb on his right hand in an accident in the shingle mill, Tuesday.

The fingers were cut off by a saw. Dr. A. G. Vey of Honeymoon Bay attended and the injured man was taken to Duncan Hospital in the Kinsmen's ambulance.

Museum, Library In First City Hall

PORT ALBERNI—Establishment of a museum and library in the city's first city hall will be undertaken following return of the building to the city.

The man who first moved that the building be given to the Canadian Legion was instrumental years later in having the Legion return the building. He is Edward Homewood, a member of an early council who sponsored the original move. He met the Port Alberni city council in support of a letter from the Legion agreeing to the return of the building.

Gyros To Entertain Nanaimo Children

NANAIMO—Good citizenship of the Nanaimo Gyro Club in providing a Halloween party for city and district children, to take place at the Comox Road Park football field Friday night, was praised by the Nanaimo Parks Board.

In support of the gesture, the board did not levy its usual charge of $15 for a platform for a children's parade and will have it delivered to the park and returned free.

Commissioners learned that vandalism, believed to be the work of older boys, continued at Haliburton Street playgrounds.

Fire Hall By-law Gets Third Reading

DUNCAN—A by-law authorizing construction of a $45,000 fire hall on Ingram Street has been given third reading by the Duncan City Council, following approval of property owners at a plebiscite Oct. 21.

Council will call for tenders for construction and for the sale of debentures in the near future. Mayor J. C. Wragg told the meeting that passage of the by-law by the electors was a vote of confidence in the council.

Zionist Leader Dies

NEW YORK.—Rabbi Judah Leon Magnes, 71, president of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem and Zionist leader for 43 years, died here Wednesday.

Indian Sentenced To Death At Kamloops

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson Wednesday night sentenced Mike Duncan Antoine to be hanged Jan. 7 for the knife slaying of Daniel Elkins, 27-year-old Tappen Indian, Sept. 28, 1947, at a hop-pickers' camp near Kamloops.

The assize court jury found Antoine guilty after 3½ hours of deliberation, but included in the verdict a strong recommendation for mercy. Mr. Justice Manson said he would forward this to the Minister of Justice at Ottawa.

Antoine was arrested last April after six months of investigation by British Columbia police. Elkins died an hour after he had been found in the alleyway of the hop-pickers' camp bleeding from four knife wounds in the throat and face.

During the three-day trial here a long procession of Indian hop-pickers, mostly speaking through interpreters, told of seeing a fight, but none could positively identify Antoine. Crown counsel T. G. Bowen-Colthurst linked the blood-stained jackknife found at the scene of the murder with Antoine although a half-dozen Indians said it had been in their possession at various times.

Pro Tennis Players In Auto Crack-up

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—An automobile carrying Jack Kramer's touring professional tennis troupe overturned at Gunnedah, New South Wales, Wednesday, injuring two members of the party slightly.

Bobby Riggs of Chicago, former U.S. singles champion, and Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Ecuador, one-time holder of the U.S. indoor and intercollegiate titles, received minor cuts.

Kramer, who was U.S. and Wimbledon champion when he turned pro, and Dinny Pails, former Australian champion, escaped injury. The four, who toured the United States last year, have been in Australia several weeks.

They said the automobile skidded into a shallow ditch while rounding a curve, struck a tree stump and rolled over twice.

Canada To Discuss Trade Pacts With Eleven Countries

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will participate in a new series of multilateral tariff negotiations with 11 countries which have indicated their desire to become parties to the general agreement on tariffs and trade, the government announced.

The countries with which Canada will negotiate are Denmark, the Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Finland, Greece, Haiti, Italy, Nicaragua, Sweden, Peru and Uruguay.

The negotiations will take place in Geneva, Switzerland, beginning next April 11.

These countries will be additions to the 22 nations which negotiated the tariff and trade agreement at Geneva last year. They have been invited by the original contracting countries to enter the agreement and have accepted.

The "originals" in the agreement included Canada, Britain, France, the United States and other major world traders. Russia did not take part in the negotiations.

Trade Minister Howe, announcing the new negotiations, said government departments concerned now were making preparations for the talks. Canadian business firms and organizations interested in trade with the 11 countries are invited to submit written representations.

New Group Of Quebec Liberals

QUEBEC (CP)—Maj. Francois Poirier, wartime officer with the 4th Chaudiere Regiment and 29-year-old Quebec lawyer, announced here Wednesday night the formation of a Liberal political action group called "L'Action Politique Libérale."

In the process of organization for some months, the group of Liberals, composed mostly of young party members, has held meetings ever since their party suffered a wash-out defeat July 28 last when Premier Duplessis' Union Nationale swept into power with 82 of the Quebec Legislative Assembly's 92 seats. The directors of L'Action Politique Libérale announced simultaneously that they would ask the leader of the provincial Liberal Party, Adelard Godbout, to call a convention of the party to choose a new leader.

800 Teachers Here For 3-Day Parley Starting Nov. 11

Eight hundred teachers from Vancouver Island schools and from the Powell River area will hold a three-day convention here starting Nov. 11.

New advancements in teaching methods will be featured in lectures and demonstrations planned.

The convention will be under the chairmanship of Bernard Gilie, principal of Willows School. Among prominent speakers scheduled to address the convention sessions, which are to be held at Victoria High School, are Dr. Franklin Zeran of Oregon State College of Education and Dr. Roy Daniels of U.B.C. Dr. Zeran will address a public meeting opening the convention. Dr. Daniels will address delegates at banquet.

A display of 2,000 educational books is planned, also a variety of audio visual aids for teaching. A special showing of the moving picture film, "Hamlet," for the delegates has been arranged by Col. F. T. Fairley, deputy minister of education.

Shortage Of Nails Slows Down City's Building Activity

Construction activity in Victoria has slowed down considerably during the past few weeks because of a nail shortage, George H. Wheaton, president of the Victoria Builders' Exchange, reports.

Canadian nails are practically unobtainable at the present time, he said. American nails are available but cost more, selling between $17 and $18 a keg. Mr. Wheaton said no immediate improvement in the situation is likely and added that if the shortage gets worse, a lot of building will have to stop.

One reason for the shortage is the reduction of steel imports from the United States, he said. Steel from Eastern Canada, which finds its way here, is not enough to meet the demand.

dismissed by both the Supreme Court of British Columbia and the Appeal Court. The damage action arose from a case heard in Saanich police court in which the S.P.C.A. charged Mr. Pickles with neglecting a sheep. The case was dismissed. Mr. Pickles claimed the S.P.C.A. had taken action against him with malicious intent.

WHATTA-THEY-MEAN????

WHATTA-THEY-MEAN???? Franz Lehar is dead, this headline I guess, you too... have read. COMPOSER OF "MERRY WIDOW," it did relate, Franz Lehar is dead... at seventy-eight. Severing a link, in Vienna's past, he was the oldest... about the last. Of the famous composers, of his day, of light-hearted music, operettas-so-gay. NOW I ask again... just whatta-they-mean, using THAT kinda type, on a line-machine??? Just HOW could that link, his dying sever, when immortality means... going on forever. On and on... generations to be, his waltz will dance to eternity. Young couples will catch its spirit gay, & want to dance... a little further away. To hold her gently... but very sure, then to be lost, in its forever allure. And oldsters, with less steady knees, will live again... with the Viennese. As often again on their antenna, "shall we dance... mother... in old Vienna?" The world will change, ironing out a few faults, but NOTHING can change... this glorious waltz. In all ages to come, & forever more, wherever there's music, & a dance-floor. Never dying or fading... of shaded in gloom, "The Merry Widow" will flow... till the creek of doom. To the last syllable of recorded time, forever... perpetual... ceaseless... sub-time.

THERE'S FOREVER RHYTHM in this solid walnut "Duncan Phyfee" coffee table, styled by a famous Mfg. Has blue glass top... is only $45.00.

JUST WHATTA-THEY-MEAN... with that, death-clause, when all that's happened, was a slight pause. An instant or so, when he cast off the shoddy, to a HIGHER note... outside the body. To more heavenly music, in all it's worth, a glimpse of which... he'd caught on earth. Then shared this gift from above, there's NO DISCHORD in the music of love. As deathless, too... as the morning star, so WHATTA-THEY-MEAN... died Franz Lehar???

Bergen Gets Along Without McCarthy

For the first time in his screen career, Edgar Bergen is seen without his faithful wooden-head, Charlie McCarthy, in RKO Radio's "I Remember Mama." The famous ventriloquist portrays a timid little Norwegian undertaker in the George Stevens production and, as he says, "Charlie thinks it's high time I learned to support myself." Irene Dunne co-stars with Barbara Bel Geddes, Oscar Homolka and Philip Dorn in the engaging story of a Scandinavian family in San Francisco 40 years ago.

Danny Thomas In Capitol Show

In southern Michigan is a little town named Deerfield that ships a lot of good rhubarb, but not what you'd call a bumper crop of actors. Just the same, it can lay claim to growing at least one who has gone to market successfully in Chicago, New York and Hollywood.

He is Danny Thomas, who dates back in show business quite a spell. As a floor-show comedian, he was at the 5100 Club in Chicago for three years. Then, for 29 weeks, he kept customers awake at La Martinique in New York. Now he makes his second motion picture appearance in M-G-M's comedy-drama, "Big City," on the Capitol Theatre screen this week.

You should not miss "England Today." For the hundreds who were disappointed and could not get into St. Andrew's last night to see E. H. Scott's beautiful new sound color film, "England Today," it will be repeated again tonight and full information given on the best foods to put in your parcels for Britain. St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church tonight at 8. Entire collection for food for Britain.

BUS BATH FEATURE—The B.C. Electric Railway Company's modern service garage for buses of the Greater Victoria transportation system will be opened officially next Tuesday afternoon. Situated at Douglas Street and Garbally Road, the garage is equipped with a high-pressure bus wash which was previewed for the cameramen Wednesday. Buses pass through jets of water at one end of the bath and move down a scouring line before getting a final rinse as they emerge into the open.

Actor Tells How Fights Faked

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I've been wanting to do this for a long time," said Kirk Douglas as he punched me in the chin. His boxing glove caught me again—and again.

Douglas was demonstrating the gentle art of harmless offence, practiced in movie fights. He would thrust his arm out with a murderous jab, then hold back at the last split-second before the blow. The effect was like being assaulted with a stick of cotton candy.

The angel's tap is necessary only for closeup shots. In many movie slugfests that you see, not a blow is exchanged, even though the hero and villain appear to be killing each other.

You see, the camera isn't fast enough to detect the hero's missing the villain's chin by six inches. The crack of fist on chin is heard on the sound track, and the heavy reels backward under the impact of the imaginary blow. And there you are thinking, gosh, how can those actors take such punishment?

Such trickery will not always be possible in Douglas' next film, "Champion," for which director Mark Robson is seeking the realism of close-ups. I found Kirk in a slugging match with his coach, Mushy Callahan. Neither bore a scar of the battle.

Mushy, a veteran at staging movie bouts, said they're much more exciting than the real thing.

"Ninety per cent of the regular bouts are just plain dull," the smash-nosed fighter remarked. "In the movies, we can put excitement in a fight because they're staged for thrills."

19th 'Blondie' Film

"Blondie's Big Moment," a new adventure of a favorite movie family, comes to the Rio Theatre today. Nineteenth in the Columbia series based on Chic Young's comic strip, "Blondie," the film features Penny (Blondie) Singleton, Arthur (Dagwood) Lake, Anita Louise, Larry Simms, Marjorie Kent, Jerome Cowan and Daisy. Connie Lee wrote the original screenplay which was directed by Abby Berlin.

ROYAL THEATRE

Peggy Cummins' two most recent pictures have given the petite blonde star ample reason for being thankful for her expert horsemanship. Her roles called for versatility in riding to match her acting ability.

In "Green Grass of Wyoming," Peggy was called upon to tear across the range, riding in true western style.

For "Escape," her current Twentieth Century-Fox picture, Peggy had to rid herself of the typical cowboy slouch and ride, instead, in the formal and correct style of the fox hunt.

"Escape," which is currently at the Royal Theatre, co-stars Peggy with Rex Harrison.

'Fury At Furnace Creek,' Western Saga

The pioneers who lived in dread of Indian massacres had 20 times a better chance of living than does today's motorist.

Frances Richardson, head of Twentieth Century-Fox's research library, discovered that while she was thumbing through old books and newspapers for material for "Fury at Furnace Creek," a saga of the winning of the west, which co-stars Victor Mature and Coleen Gray, and opens today at the Oak Bay Theatre.

"Today's death rate by accident is roughly 20 times that of the settlers in Arizona in the 1880's and 1890's," she said. "The Indian massacres were horrible beyond belief, but there weren't nearly as many of them as we might think."

Linda Darnell Back In Character Groove

If there ever was a doubt of Linda Darnell's status as the screen's most beautiful-and-murdered actress, her current role in John Ford's "My Darling Clementine," the Twentieth Century-Fox film opening today at the York Theatre, should dispel it.

ODEON THEATRE

Despite the fact that fans sometimes find mistakes in movies, there is no limit to the extent studios will go in the interest of having everything in a picture correct.

One example of this is a can-can dance staged in "Another Part of the Forest," currently at the Odeon Theatre. The dance director spent eight full days rehearsing Dona Drake and the other girls in their routines in order to insure the number being done exactly as it was in the 1880 period of the film.

PLAZA THEATRE

"Raw Deal," dynamite-packed film at the Plaza Theatre, is a fury-filled drama of love and vengeance on the wrong side of the law, made by the same sensational "T-Men" team!

Reuniting the talents of Dennis O'Keefe as co-star, Edward Small, cameraman John Alton, director Anthony Mann and scriptwriter John C. Higgins, "Raw Deal," a Reliance Picture, is the blasting drama of two women and a man defying all odds to complete a grim mission. Blonde Claire Trevor and brunette Marsha Hunt are cast in the co-starring roles opposite O'Keefe.

'Richest Girl' Divorces Second

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Doris Duke, sometimes known as the world's richest heiress, Wednesday was awarded a divorce from Porfirio Rubirosa, Dominican diplomat, whom she married in Paris Sept. 11, 1947.

Judge William McKnight awarded the divorce on grounds of "extreme mental cruelty." Rubirosa did not contest the suit.

Miss Duke was divorced here from James H. R. Cronwell, former United States Minister to Canada, in 1944.

Heiress to the James B. Duke tobacco fortune, the 35-year-old Miss Duke has been known as the "Golden Girl." On her father's death she became heiress to a trust fund valued in excess of $30,000,000. She also inherited a trusteeship of the Duke endowment, established as a gift of $40,000,000.

She was a fashion editor for Harper's Bazaar magazine in Paris when she married Rubirosa, 40. After their wedding, a Dominican friend of Rubirosa said she retained control and administration of the vast fortune under the contract by which they were married.

It was her second marriage.
